Daily Our Fall and Winter Stocks Are Being Augmented With New Arrivals.

From All the World's Style Centers Is Coming the Last Word On Fashions.

No Greater Garment Values Are Offered.

Autumn's cleverest Suits, Dresses, Coats and Skirts, manufactured by the craftsmen who know how to infuse the most style and goodness into their creations, are offered for sale at prices that are usually asked for very commonplace garments. A visit to this department will convince you.

Silk Beaver Hats and Sorel Turbans are among the most exclusive styles in autumn headwear. Like all the other new models we are showing, they have a style all their own—that chic, smart look that our milliners impart to all the hats that come from our establishment. Come in to-morrow and let Miss Flaherty show you the new models and you will not be satisfied with a hat from any other establishment.

Women's Kid Gloves

69c We offer for Monday four thousand pairs of our own importation of these superior gloves. They are made from milk-fed lamb skin, making them strong and pliable. They are in the new autumn colors, including brown, white, tan, gray, mode, red and black. They have two clasp fasteners, one row of embroidery on back, and are over-sewn sewn. They are not inferior to $1.00 gloves in any way.

Mount McKinley Expedition Subject of Attack.

The Doctor Will Probably Bring Legal Action.

COPENHAGEN STANDS FIRM.

New York, Oct. 16.—Four more affidavits were made public here to-day in connection with the investigation of Dr. Frederick A. Cook's expedition to Mount McKinley. Three of them are by members of the Cook party—Fred Printz, a guide; Walter P. Miller, photographer; and Samuel Beecher.

Their testimony relates in detail the movements of the party, explaining that Cook and Barrill were alone together during the period in which Dr. Cook claims to have reached the summit of Mount McKinley. All three say that Barrill assured them later that Dr. Cook's story was false.

The fourth affidavit is that of Dr. John B. Shore, a physician of Leavenworth, Wash., who tells of a conversation with Cook at the time Cook was in the United States Forestry Service, in which Cook claimed to have climbed Mount McKinley. Cook's story was false, according to Dr. Shore.

Printz Affidavit.

The affidavit of Fred Printz, the guide, is dated October 4. It says that at the time of Dr. Cook's alleged ascent of the peak he and several others had been on a side trip to hunt specimens for the Smithsonian Institution. The affidavit continues:

"Then the doctor picked up Deiken for a cook, and taking Barrill, left in the launch for Shushitna station. From there, he said, they were going up Shushitna, up the glacier and up to the trailhead to the head of navigation, to explore the country for the route to Mount McKinley."

"Miller and I returned to Shushitna station September 11, where the doctor joined us with Barrill on September 22, saying that they had made the summit of Mount McKinley."

"From there we left for home. On leaving the doctor at Seward he promised that part of my pay for the summer would be in Seattle for me, but on arriving there and not finding it, borrowed money to get home on, and having written the doctor several times since for the amount due, have received $100, leaving a balance of $225 due me at this date."

"In about one month after Barrill and I returned home from our trip with Dr. Cook in 1906, Barrill laughed and told me that he and Cook never got to the top of Mount McKinley."

Miller Affidavit.

Walter P. Miller, the photographer, in his affidavit, says that he was with Printz on the side trip during the time in which Dr. Cook claims to have gone to the summit of the mountain. His testimony continues:

"Dr. Cook and Barrill took the launch and went down the glacier, and up to the trailhead to the head of navigation, to explore the country for the route to Mount McKinley; Printz and I returned to the Shushitna station. On the 23d of September we met Dr. Cook and Barrill at the station, and then we all came together to Seward."

"The doctor and I went to the trailhead, where we were to meet the expedition, to whom I related all the circumstances of the trip."

"So far as I am advised, Barrill is the only man who has personal knowledge as to whether or not Dr. Cook ascended to the summit of Mount McKinley."

"In May, 1909, I met Edward N. Barrill at Missoula, Mont. He then informed me for the first time that he and Dr. Cook had never reached the summit of Mount McKinley. I then said to him, 'Where were you?' when he replied, 'This side of the mountain.' I asked him about his picture, shown opposite page 227, in Dr. Cook's book, when he replied, 'That is my picture, but that is not the top of the mountain.'"

Beecher Affidavit.

The affidavit of Samuel Beecher, after describing the early experience of the party, tells of a trip which he and several other members of the expedition took from their "base camp." He says: "On July 22 we reached our nearest point to the mountain, the point being, as R. W. Porter said, fourteen miles from the summit. On this trip we were mapping and taking observations of the country. At our last camp the elevation was in the neighborhood of 5,000 feet and from that point I could readily recognize all the pictures shown by Dr. Cook in his magazine article on the ascent of the mountain, with the exception of the pictures shown as being the summit and the one on page 230, which are such as might have been taken at elevations of 5,000 or 6,000 feet. Pictures that I recognized could have been taken at an elevation of about 7,000 feet."

"The point located by Edward Barrill as being the point claimed as the top of Mount McKinley from my position had an apparent elevation of approximately 5,000 feet."

"From our camp I had a view of nearly the whole route as stated by Edward Barrill. I was present at all times when Mr. Barrill made his affidavit of even date herewith, and all the facts stated in his affidavit covering the period I was with him are correct."

"The reason for my making this affidavit is not through personal animosity or ill-will against Dr. Cook, but from a sense of justice to the public."

Shore Affidavit.

Mr. John F. Shore's testimony is as follows:

"During the summer of 1907 I was conversing with Oscar F. Blankenship, who told me that while near Mount McKinley he knew of Dr. Cook's alleged ascent of the mountain, but that from his very short absence from the launch it was impossible for him to have made the ascent and return in that time."

"Blankenship is now a Forestry Service man at Shoshone, Wash. Since having this conversation I met S. P. Beecher and talked with him about the matter. He said to me: 'That is right, but he said he was not going to say anything about the feat; that the ascent had never been really made.'"

COOK'S RECORDS FIRST.

Many View American Geographical Society As Possibly the Doctor's Enemy.

Copenhagen, Oct. 16.—Local sentiment may be summed up as averse to granting the request of the National Geographic Society and the United States that the University of Copenhagen waive its claim to the first examination of Dr. Cook's North Pole data.

Prof. Tor, rector of the University of Copenhagen, received the request only this morning, and personally ascertained the facts of the case. A consistory of the university to discuss the matter has been summoned to meet next Wednesday.

The university authorities and others here are rather jealous of the attempt to give to the United States the privilege of receiving Dr. Cook's records. They consider that there are no more competent judges than the professors of the Copenhagen University, and members of the Danish Royal Geographical Society, and unless Dr. Cook personally requests it they are likely to refuse the request.

Rector Tor said to-day that it was within his province to decide the matter, which must be determined by the consistory. The consistory will be composed of twenty-two professors. Meanwhile, efforts will be made to obtain further information concerning the polar controversy. In certain university circles the proposal to waive the claim to the first examination of Dr. Cook's records is viewed with skepticism as possibly the suggestion of Cook's enemies.

DR. COOK TO HEAD ANOTHER EXPEDITION.

Will Go After His Own Records on Mount McKinley—Concludes To Cancel Lectures.

New York, Oct. 16.—Having failed in his efforts to get Prof. Herschel C. Parker and Anthony Flata to conduct an expedition to ascend Mount McKinley, Dr. Frederick A. Cook has decided to head the expedition himself. He has already announced his decision to Dr. Cook.

"I am fully determined to break off my lecture tour, complete my Arctic expedition for Copenhagen and then an expedition immediately to Mount McKinley to recover the records which I left there. My decision has been reached owing to the refusal of the consistory of the University of Copenhagen to waive its claim to the first examination of my records. I have not seen my lecture manager, but I believe am bound to deliver four or five lectures here and there, but although I am booked to the coast and back, I shall not go further than Minneapolis."

"In May, 1909, I met Edward N. Barrill at Missoula, Mont. He then informed me for the first time that he and Dr. Cook had never reached the summit of Mount McKinley. I then said to him, 'Where were you?' when he replied, 'This side of the mountain.' "TAPS" FOR THE HORSE SHOW

Sounded by Trumpeter Roth Late Last Night.

Exhibit the Best Ever Held In Louisville.

Owners and Fanciers Express Warm Approval.

SOCIETY DOES ITS SHARE.

When Trumpeter Peter Roth sounded "taps" on the bugle and the rows of incandescents and flaming arcs began to blink out row by row and one by one, the tenth annual Louisville Horse Show, the best exhibit of fine horses in the United States outside of the Madison Square Garden show at New York, came to a successful close after 11 o'clock last night.

That this year's show has been a financial success, it cannot yet be said, but from the standpoint of society and horse owners and exhibitors, the affair was the finest in the history of the city and the State. The Eastern horsemen, a man, expressed themselves as highly pleased with the show just closed.

"We have never seen finer classes nor types of horses in the country—nor anywhere else for that matter," they declared. Of course, the class rings were not so large as the rings at New York, but the horses shown in the Louisville show were practically the same animals as those entered at Madison Square Garden, with the exception of some entries from the smaller Eastern stables.

Attendance At Show.

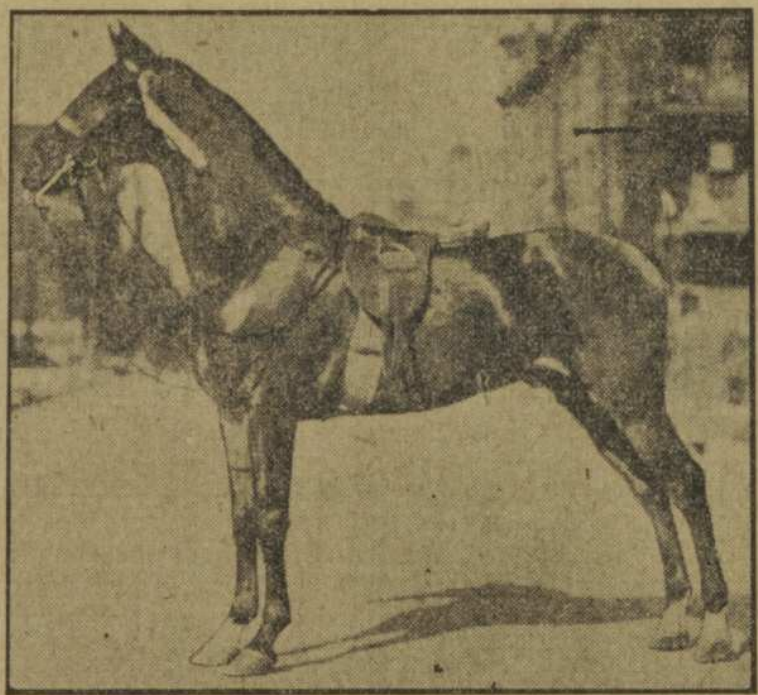

Candidly, it may be said that the crowds at this season's show were not larger than those of last year. This was due partly to the fact that the army was not heated the first two nights, and the blue ribbon equine show was held on the same grounds as those entered at Madison Square Garden, with the exception of some entries from the smaller Eastern stables.

Society was out in full force with all of its feathers and furbelows every night in the week, and Louisville's debutantes surely cannot say they did not share with the blue ribbon equine show the most successful of the season. For Wednesday's show hundreds of persons were not aware of it, and many of those who would otherwise have attended stayed away, willing to miss the sight of the horses and gowns rather than suffer discomfort. However, there was a good, big crowd on Tuesday and Friday nights and a comfortable attendance, so to speak, on the closing night.

Mr. Carroll's Statement.

"We would like to have it cast abroad

Col. Fred Levy's Blue Ribbon Saddler

Bay gelding, 15½, winner of the blue ribbon in the local three-gaited saddle class at the Horse Show Wednesday evening.

that we appreciate beyond expression the work of the judges during the week. Practically all of the exhibitors, both winners and losers, have come to me and told me that they were delighted with the treatment they had received at the hands of the gentlemen who have made the decisions. That the satisfaction was general among the horsemen goes without demerit.

"It was also pleasing to note that the ribbons were so well distributed among the various exhibitors. That no one or two of the larger stables had a monopoly of the prize ring was a source of satisfaction to everybody, least of all the exhibitors themselves. We wish, also, to thank the newspapers for the kind treatment we have received at their hands, and say that the success of our plans was due in an unmeasurable degree to the generous publicity of the press."

The horse ring was extremely classy last night, as all of the championship classes came out for final decision and tests of merit. The champion rings included those for the five-gaited and three-gaited saddle horses and the harness horses in pairs and in singles. Five rings were shown in the harness and five-gaited saddle horse classes before the four championship classes appeared before the judges. The high-jumping contest fittingly closed the Horse Show of 1909. The spectators seemed to be in a rather critical mood last night, and it was only the ring and performance extraordinary that drew the applause. The chief exhibitors last night were Lawrence Jones, Alfred V. Vanderbilt and George Pepper.

Jumpers the Feature.

The feature of the evening's performance did not develop until the final ring came into the arena.

On the previous nights the classes for jumpers and jumpers did not attract a deep interest nor hold the crowd, and for the most part, the fact that it was not a high-jump contest, and that performance and conformation counted with the judges. Last night it was a high-jumping affair, with a prize of $500 to the world's record breaker. That the five hundred still belongs to the show management is no sign that there was not plenty of excitement, for Myopia and Policeman battled for half an hour for the honors. Policeman, one defeated at length when Myopia cleared 6 feet 8½ inches, which he had failed to make after three trials.

Last night was another Jones-Vanderbilt night at the show, so far as prizes went. These exhibitors as usual had most of the entries in the performance, and each took three firsts, and two or three seconds. Other winners included Earl Ross, Mrs. J. T. Lowndes and Messrs. Matt Cohen, J. W. Harrison, A. J. Honey and George Pepper. The high jumping class was easily the feature of the evening and it was one of the few rings to which the crowd worked up. In fact, the crowd was rather busy among itself last night, and only looked up to applaud when something very special appeared in the arena. When Mr. Pepper's jumpers came out for a try at the world's record, which is something like 7 feet 8 inches, everybody took notice.

Only Three Contestants.

There were to have been six contestants, but three of the horses were scratched and the battle was waged between Myopia, Policeman and Rupert. When the horses got to jumping higher than six feet Rupert did not show

Bloated And Sour Stomach

Need No Longer Be Endured By Sufferers From Dyspepsia.

The stomach and intestines always contain even in health, a small amount of gas. These gases are produced by the action of the digestive organs on the food. They are not harmful in themselves, but when they are produced in excess, they cause bloating and sour stomach. This is due to the fact that the stomach and intestines are not able to handle the excess of gas. The result is a feeling of fullness and discomfort, and the food is not properly digested. This can lead to various ailments, including indigestion, heartburn, and constipation.

When digestion is perfectly healthy there can be no fermentation and flatulence, but as soon as indigestion occurs, carbonic acid gas and various other gases are freely formed in the stomach and bowels, causing much discomfort. The remedy employed for the cure of flatulence may be classified as follows: Those which favor the expulsion of gas, those which favor the absorption of gas, and those which favor the neutralization of the acids. The only one above has the power of preventing fermentation and decomposition of food and at the same time absorbing all excess gas in the alimentary channel. Medicines which expel gases from the stomach, known as cathartics, are not to be confused with remedies which absorb the gases and prevent fermentation. The latter are known as "STANT'S" CHARCOAL LOZENGES and are now being used by thousands of people who were formerly subject to indigestion and flatulence. They are made of the finest willow wood, treated by a special, exclusive, carbonizing process, and when sweetened with pure honey, a medicinal product is obtained which is at once palatable and absolutely effective in curing these complaints. Purchase a box from your druggist at once for 50 cents and give them a fair trial; the result will more than please you. Send us your name and address and a free sample will be forwarded to you by return mail. Address: STANT, Stuart Co., 209 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

In a Nutshell:

Where are you buying your garments? Do you go where the glass is largest in the windows? You can't wear glass—the world would see through it. Do you go where the leaves are most autumnal? They abandoned leaves as the apparel of women in the Garden of Eden—they don't even wear them on the stage. Do you feel attracted by the cheap, trashy, screeching gowns on some of the wax women in the show windows? You would not wear one of those impossible rags if you had to. Do you pin your faith on gaudy, mollycoddle advertisements that harp on French words for want of something substantial to say?

Or do you prefer keystone QUALITY—quality that rings true to the guarantee? In other words, do you merely wish to spend your money, or would you prefer to INVEST it? "HUSCH" stands for "value received, to-day, to-morrow and as long as we will be in business." When we make a statement to the trade it is always with this understanding—"if not satisfactory in every respect, return the goods and get your money."

May. Four other entries were scratched. It did not take the judge long to get through with this ring. The crowd picked Edna for the blue and the judge followed in her favor. Star McDonald was nudged out of the reserve prize of $50.

Avondale Farm.

Avondale Farm took the first prize in the next ring with Nala, in the class for heavy harness horses shown singly. It took Judge Marshall just about ten minutes to decide that Nala was the best horse in the ring according to his opinion, and that Sir James was better than Belle of Irvington. Gloria was out of the money.

Another class that had considerable showing and which drew a flattering lot of attention was the harness horse ring, horses 15 hands and under shown to tandem. This was rather spectacular and the two contenders, Madge and The Duke, from the Oakland farm, and Irvington Pegaway and Irvington Bouncing Bett, were given a thorough workout, on account of the close match. The Vanderbilt stable offerings finally took the blue ribbon. Ripping applause followed the decision. The local harness horses shown to runabouts were a fast lot and the five entries kept the interest keyed up until the finish.

Fred Levy's Patricia, which had won before during the week was thought to be a contestant for the blue tie, but in the final analysis she was found wanting, and was left out of the money.

When the judges, Messrs. Clausen and Marshall, had finally decided in favor of Sir James, Vanderbilt was driving his own entry and Roberta drove for Jones. Prolonged applause followed the tying of the ribbons.

Mr. Jones evened up scores with Mr. Vanderbilt in the very next ring when the championship for harness horse pairs came out before the judges. In this ring Mr. Jones' entries went against two entries from the Oakland farm and the yellow tie.

Another ring that was a feature event was that of the championship for single harness horses. There were to have been seven entries in the contest but at the showdown Lawrence Jones had two entries in (Gallant Lad and Mr. Hickman), and Alfred Vanderbilt had two in The Youngster and Sir James.

Applause Divided.

After the preliminary working-out, the judge set aside Gallant Lad and Sir James. Then a long, hard trying of the horses began and lasted for perhaps half an hour. The applause was divided, but there was plenty of it and the place did not seem to be lonesome in the least.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance,

"When I began using Danderine my hair would not come to my shoulders and now it is even below my neck."

Another from Newark, N. J.,

"I have been using Danderine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very thin hair, now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and the silver or stamp to pay postage.

REGISTRATION PURGERS BREAK EVEN IN HONORS

TWO NAMES FOR EACH PARTY ARE STRICKEN OFF.

JUDGE PETER RULES FOR AND AGAINST DEMOCRATS.

POSITION AS TO EX-CONVICTS.

So far as net results are concerned, the Democrats and Republicans in the matter of registration purgation. Names of two who had registered as Republicans were stricken off the registration books and the same action was ordered in the case of two who had registered as Democrats. In each instance this action was taken for the reason that the workers of the party organizations had been unable to find the men whose names were registered. Judge Arthur Peter, of the County Court, where the proceedings are being held, made a ruling yesterday which was distasteful to the Democrats. Heretofore it has been the practice to strike names off when the challengers had shown that the one challenged had been convicted of a crime and served a term in the penitentiary. Yesterday, however, in the case of George Harrison, of 708 Fulton street, rear, although it was admitted he had served in the penitentiary, Judge Peter held that it was incumbent on the challengers, who were Democrats, to show that Harrison never had been restored to his civil rights.

On Friday the name of Henry Smith, colored, of 115 West Jefferson street, was stricken off for the reason that he had served in the penitentiary. His admittance that was so, said that he had never been pardoned, but added that he thought the Republicans would get him restored to his civil rights.

In another ruling, however, Judge Peter has upheld the contention of the Democrats. This was in the case of a Greek who had taken out his naturalization papers in the Jefferson County Court. Judge Peter held with W. W. Thum and Edward Roy when he ruled that such a proceeding was regular and against Chesley Searey, Assistant County Attorney, and Maj. W. C. Owens, for the Republicans.

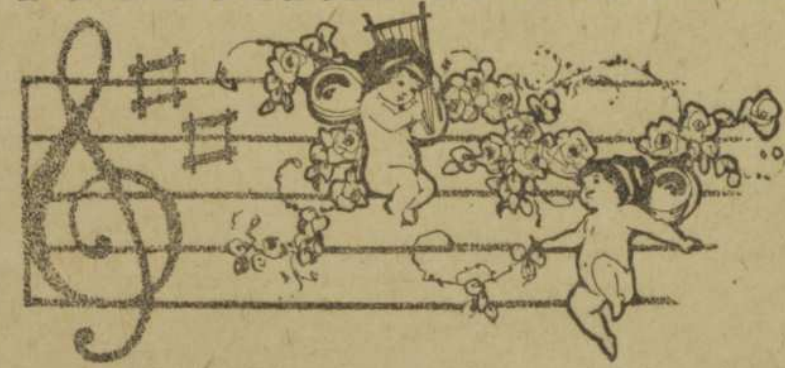

Those whose names were stricken off yesterday were: Charles T. Brown, 912 East Green street; Eighteenth precinct of the Second ward. William Whitlow, 278 Shelby street; Third precinct of the First ward. Frank Delacy, Seventeenth precinct of the Fifth ward. P. McAndrew, Thirteenth precinct of the Fifth ward.

OLD ENGLISH INNS.

(The Athenaeum.)

The Fighting Cocks Inn on the River Ver, St. Albans, said to be "over 1,100 years old," claims to be the oldest inhabited house in the kingdom, but the Saracen's Head, Newark, memorable in the story of Jennie Deans, can actually, it seems, show title deeds dating back to 1341. The oldest tavern still extant is that of Richard de Insula, Bishop of Durham, at the Angel Inn, Byth, North, anno 1274. The "Inn in Coquille," 278, 284, is somewhat excessive, taking the relative value of money into consideration.

MUSICAL EVENTS

The Louisville Quintette Club announces a series of six concerts to be given during the ensuing season at the Woman's Club. The first concert will take place on November 2, the second December 7 and in the new year the concerts will take place on the third Tuesday of each month. The personnel of the club is unchanged since last year, when the following well-known artists gave a delightful series of concerts: Mrs. J. E. Whitney at the piano, Mr. Charles Lettler, first violin; Mrs. Alinda Waudenrich, second violin; Mr. Victor Rudolf, viola; Mr. Karl Schmidt, cello. The programme of the initial concert follows: String Quartet.....Ippolitoff Iwanoff Unfinished string quartet.....Grieg Quintette for piano and strings.....Biding

The Oratorio Society has begun rehearsal for the season of 1909-1910. The chief work under way at present is the study of Haydn's "The Creation" which will be given the middle of January, accompanied by the Louisville Symphony Orchestra. The society began work enthusiastically with 30 members present; the first rehearsal, while the increase in attendance at the second rehearsal indicates that more voices are being added. However, the standard for voices is said to be more severe than last year, none but first-class voices being admitted. The society has under consideration for the second biennial jubilee next year the rendition of either Verdi's "Requiem" or "The Damnation of Faust," by Berlioz. For another performance, Beethoven's Ninth, or Choral, Symphony, will probably be given. The last movement of this symphony requires the use of a large chorus and several soloists.

The Louisville Symphony Orchestra has been enlarged this season by the addition of several new members from other cities. Among them are two good horn players, Messrs. Burnham and Pierce, from Boston. Joseph E. Leach, the solo violinist, is from Philadelphia, and Mr. Stafford from Cleveland, will play solo bassoon. Mr. Nelson, of Pittsburgh, is engaged to play second bassoon. Mr. Steiner, of New York, will be solo cellist again this season.

The acrobatic talent is expected to strengthen the orchestra greatly and place it on a still firmer artistic footing than heretofore.

The Philharmonic Orchestra resumes rehearsals next Wednesday at Baldwin's Hall and will give a concert in the near future. The Musical Club, following its custom, has resumed its regular Monday night rehearsals and has been at work now for about a month. The club is preparing to give "The Messiah" during Christmas season, and the program is being rehearsed for the holiday season, and not having been heard here for several years. The members of the club express themselves as much pleased with the work of their new conductor, Prof. Anthony Mottelberg, under whose leadership a splendid rendition of the famous old oratorio is confidently promised.

The chorus has been materially strengthened by the addition of a number of good voices, especially in the male section. The enrollment for the first

A TREAT IN STORE FOR THE "NEWSIES."

Courier-Journal and Times Street Salesmen To Be Guests of Hopkins Theater.

There will be great doings at Hopkins Theater to-morrow night. The management of the theater and of the "On the Swanne River" company has extended an invitation to the newsboys of the Courier-Journal and The Times to be guests of the house that evening, and the "newsies" have accepted unanimously. There will be between 500 and 600 boys on hand to enjoy the performance—to weep with the heroine, applaud the hero, and grind their teeth in rage at the persecutions of the villain.

The newsboys from the center of the city will line up at The Times office, Green street side, at 7:30 o'clock prompt, when tickets will be given them. Boys from East and West Ends will get their tickets from regular route agents or chief carriers. No boy will be admitted without a ticket.

LINDSAY GRAVE OVERLOOKS RIVER

CARRIAGE SUPPLY OF FRANKFORD EXHAUSTED.

SERVICES WILL BE CONDUCTED BY THREE MINISTERS.

PRESBYTERIAN SONG SERVICE.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—All that is mortal of Kentucky's great Judge and statesman, William Lindsay will be laid to rest to-morrow afternoon in the beautiful Frankfort cemetery, where so many of the State's eminent men sleep. The Lindsay lot in the cemetery is not far from the chapel and overlooks the Kentucky River at the point that gives one of the most beautiful views about the capital city and in plain sight of the new Capitol.

Nearly every one of the men who were asked to act as honorary and active pallbearers, have accepted. The public carriage supply of the city has been exhausted in an effort to secure enough to carry the people to the cemetery and a number of friends of the family have tendered the use of private carriages for the funeral.

The Confederate Veterans, the Judges of the Court of Appeals and the Elks will conduct the funeral. The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Allen, of the Presbyterian church, the Rev. M. E. Adams, of the Baptist church, and Bishop C. C. Penick, of the Episcopal church. The choir of the First Presbyterian church will conduct the song service. The florists of Frankfort, Lexington and Louisville are almost swamped with orders for flowers for the funeral and it is believed the floral offerings will be the largest ever known at a funeral in this city.

Mrs. Lindsay, who was prostrated yesterday by the shock of her husband's death, is somewhat improved today and it is expected she will be able to attend the ceremonies to-morrow.

Ten Cents Worth of Danger.

(The Ladies' Journal, October, 1909.) A woman went into a ten-cent store and stopped at a counter full of spectacles and eyeglasses which a clerk said were "10 cents for any pair." With the glasses were "test-cards," squares of cardboard on which were printed instructions in various sizes of type—sixteen in all—by which one could test the eyesight. To accomplish the seemingly simple task of fitting his eyes with glasses, to this end instructions were set forth as follows: "Hold the sheet from 12 to 14 inches from the eyes in a good light. Designating at the top, note the first print that can be read with ease. The number printed above the top of the line designating the focal number of the glass required." After the woman had put on several pairs and examined the "test-card" through the respective lenses, she finally succeeded in "fitting" her eyes with what she called an "astigmatic" declared was "just the thing."

"Now, there was my son Jim's wife," she continued to the clerk, "she went to an eye doctor to get glasses fitted, he charged her $1 for 'em, and 'low they're to better for my eyes, 'cept maybe 'frames is more stylish looking.' And see what 'better' she got! 'Just the thing' that comes from lookin' around!" And, immensely pleased with herself, she turned to the clerk and said: "I'm worth of about the gravest danger that a woman could invest in, for she had selected two pieces of glass, one for each eye, and was about to put them on, when she saw that the man was looking at her. She was doing! She will stick to the glasses just as long as her eyes will stand it, while mentally they will be a source of genuine satisfaction to her because they represent those fourteen dollars and ninety cents that she 'saved.' But some day she will be under the care of a specialist, probably for the removal of a cataract, which will cost ten times the 'fourteen-ninety' saved, to say nothing of the suffering entailed, and she will be fortunate if she does not suffer either mentally or physically from the remainder of her life."

It seems incredible that those old fearful risks with their eyeglass frames and their 'test-cards' of money. The greatest pity is that the law cannot reach these sellers of eye destroyers who find it easy to escape through the legal loophole of making no pretense of fitting the glasses to the eyes, but merely of making a sale and the purchaser does the fitting. And through this evasion of legal responsibility, the eyes of thousands are ruined, and the money of the poor is being dealt with those who create an evil compared to which the 'patent-medicine' habit is positively harmless.

The only safe course open to persons who desire to escape through the legal suit a competent oculist and take the precaution to the Latta Optical Company, 225 South Fourth street, Louisville, Ky.

Have You Ever Considered that an outlay of less than TEN cents a day, at most ages, will purchase a life insurance policy of $1,000.00, and that this small sum, which almost every one can save, if so expended, might be the means of protecting your wife and family from want in case of your untimely death?

The Participating Income Bond Policy not only furnishes protection in case of death, but also provides a fund in event you reach old age.

FIRST—In case of death, the amount of the policy is at once paid your beneficiary.

SECOND—Should you become totally and permanently disabled from any cause, the company will keep up your insurance without cost to you; or, if you prefer, you can draw the amount of the policy in ten equal annual installments.

THIRD—When you attain age seventy, you can either draw the amount of the policy in cash or receive a fixed income for life.

This policy contains many other desirable provisions and is issued only by the

COMMONWEALTH LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

BURIED TREASURE

Proves To Be One Dollar and Sixty-three Cents.

OFFICERS, IN DISGUST, RETURN PRISONER TO JAIL.

CAPT. JAMES MADISON PARKER DIES IN FLORIDA.

MRS. MARY SHAFER SUCCEUMS

To satisfy the pleadings of Thomas Hirschman, who claimed he had money secreted near a camp where he had been living in Howard Park, Capt. M. E. Clegg and Sheriff Oscar Johnson, of Jeffersonville, hired a horse and buggy to carry the owner of the buried treasure to its hiding place. When they reached the point yesterday morning Hirschman began to dig in the ground with a stick and finally unearthed 50 cents. He said this was only a starter and Capt. Clegg and Sheriff Johnson got busy with sticks, too, but found no more money. They then asked Hirschman how much coin he had planted and he replied $1.63. The officers became disgusted and brought Hirschman back to Jeffersonville.

Previous to the trip to Howard Park, Hirschman had been given a hearing in the Jeffersonville City Court on the charge of petit larceny and he had been held over to the Clark Circuit Court under a bond of $200, which he could not give and was committed to jail.

Hirschman is an aged and crippled veteran of the Civil War. Several months ago he was arrested after being charged on the charge of chicken stealing and several fowls were found in a suitcase he had. He then gave his name as Thomas Campbell. With his wife he had come down the river in a shantyboat and this was moored at West Louisville. While Hirschman was in jail his wife died in the Louisville Hospital, and he put up $100 in cash, which he had received as his pension as a bond and forfeited it. He wandered back to Jeffersonville and was arrested on another charge. There was a squabble about the forfeited bond and in the end Hirschman lost it. On his trip back to Jeffersonville this time he brought with him a horse and buggy and the rig will be sold by Capt. Clegg to-morrow.

Capt. Parker Dies.

Through a letter received by Miss Blanch Ferguson, of Jeffersonville, from Mrs. Mattie Israel, the death of Capt. James Madison Parker, father of the writer of the communication, in Florida, has been learned. Capt. Parker was more than 70 years of age and was a son of John C. Parker, who at one time owned the right-of-way of what is now the Louisville branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwest railroad, but it was sold to the Ohio and Mississippi railroad shortly after the close of the Civil War, and the line was then built, being opened early in 1870.

Capt. Parker was a native of Charlottesville, Ind., and was an intimate friend of Gen. Jefferson C. Davis, the two being companions in boyhood. When the Civil War broke out Gen. Davis became Colonel of the Twenty-second Indiana Volunteers, and Capt. Parker assisted his brother-in-law, David W. Daily, in recruiting Company A of the regiment, which was in many of the greatest battles of the war. Capt. Parker went through the entire war and returned to Charlottesville at its close, later marrying Miss Lizzy Keller. He was made postmaster at Charlottesville, but being a Democrat did not continue in office long.

He then located near Deputy, Ind., and finally came to Jeffersonville, where he was employed at the Government Depot. During the exposition at Nashville he went there, and then to Alaska, where he was in charge of the Alaska coast guard for several years and it was thought he had died. He returned, however, and went to Florida to live. His first wife died and he married again. Some time ago he sustained a stroke of paralysis, and this caused his death. Capt. Parker was a descendant of Magistrate B. J. Ferguson, of Jeffersonville, and they were intimate friends for more than fifty years. As a young man Capt. Parker was known as an athlete and considered one of the bravest men in Clark county, Ind.

Death of Mrs. Shafer.

Mrs. Mary Shafer, who was the wife of Charles H. Shafer, died at her home, 505 Harrison avenue, Howard Park, a suburb of Jeffersonville, yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, after being confined to her bed only a few days. She was the mother of Miss Virginia Shafer, the well-known vocalist.

Mrs. Shafer had been in declining health for some time, and recently went to the country for a stay in the hope of securing relief, but her condition did not improve and soon after Mrs. Shafer suffered from a complication of ailments.

Succumbs At Hospital.

Lacking a few days of reaching the age of 84 years, Samuel T. Smith died at the Jeffersonville Hospital yesterday morning at 4 o'clock of senility. For the past fifteen years he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Hetty Jamison, in New Albany, but about a week ago he was brought to Jeffersonville so he could be treated by his nephew, Dr. Charles P. Hancock, and he was given every attention possible. Mr. Smith was for many years in the hardware business at Salem, Ind., and was a leading merchant there until he concluded to retire on account of his age. He then went to New Albany to live with his daughter. Mr. Smith was a brother of Mrs. William Hancock, mother of Dr. C. P. Hancock, her home being at Memphis, Ind. Besides Mrs. Jamison there is a daughter at Pewee Valley, Ky., and another, Mrs. Newton Zinck, lives in Iowa.

The body was shipped to Salem, Ind., last evening for burial there.

Merger O. K.

NOT COMPETING LINES SAYS
ATTORNEY GENERAL.

HOLDING UP DECISION FOR AN-OTHER HEARING.

OBJECTORS ARE NOTIFIED.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Unless the people of Richmond who have objected to the taking over by the Louisville and Nashville railroad of the Louisville and Atlantic railroad, have some further proof to offer that this deal is in violation of the anti-trust law which prohibits the merger of two parallel or competing lines, Attorney General Breathitt will take no legal steps to prevent the transaction.

After a thorough investigation of the case when it was first laid before him by Gov. Wilson, the Attorney General decided that the two roads were not competing lines. He determined that there was nothing for him to do about it, so was about to let the matter drop, when he received word from Richmond that before he had reached a final decision on the subject, the objectors there would like to present some more facts before him that he had probably not considered.

Willing to have full cognizance of every fact which might throw light on the subject, Attorney General Breathitt notified Judge A. R. Burnham and the other Richmond citizens that he would reserve final decision until he had heard something more from them. The he has never again, and the prospects are that no attempt will be made to prevent the Louisville and Nashville from taking hold of the Louisville and Atlantic and developing it along the lines which have already been announced, the principal point being extension of the road from Versailles to Frankfort, via the Kentucky Highlands roads, which the Louisville and Nashville has since purchased.

Cash In Big Pie.

Twentyfour thousand dollars in old currency that the Democrats left here when they went out of office in 1907 was unexpectedly found by the Republican officials. The $24,000 will not nearly pay off the huge indebtedness which now hangs over the State Treasury, but it is a tidy sum to have for pin money, at any time.

The $24,000 was "dug up" in the cellar of the old Capitol building, this morning by Joe Young, the colored porter of the Auditor's office. While removing a lot of old record boxes Joe turned up a box chock full of paper money, and it is said that he almost fainted at the sight. A close examination, however, led him to doubt the value of the currency, and this doubt was confirmed when he brought the box out and it was examined.

The "money" proved to be script notes of the old Bank of Kentucky, issued in 1837, and ranging in denomination from 12 1/2 cents to $5 and $10. All of the notes say "Cashier of the Bank of Kentucky, pay to Thomas S. Page, Treasurer, or bearer, one dollar, when the amount of five dollars is presented, by order of the Board of Trustees, Philip Switzer, Chairman." The notes are embellished with cuts of old-fashioned houses, steam engines and Indians, etc. They are worthless now, of course, as the Bank of Kentucky on which they were drawn went out of existence, but are quite a curiosity and everybody in the Capitol was endeavoring to secure a "piece of money" this morning.

Marry In Jeffersonville.

Magistrate James S. Keigwin, of Jeffersonville, announced yesterday that on January 20, 1909, he had officiated at the marriage of Edward H. Carle and Miss Ella Schneider, both of whom are residents and natives of Louisville.

At the time of the marriage Mr. Carle and Miss Schneider were not ready to announce to the world that they had made the trip to Jeffersonville and have kept the affair a secret until now. The bridegroom is a well known clerk and the bride has a large circle of friends. The parents of both are dead.

A man can never bluff his wife into thinking he is wonderful; he can bluff her into making him think she does.—New York Press.

AUTO STRIKES CARRIAGE CONTAINING YOUNG WOMAN.

Miss Nita Hudson Has Narrow Escape From Serious Injury At Street Intersection.

Miss Nita Hudson, of 1518 Third avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon at about 4 o'clock. Miss Hudson was being driven south on Third avenue and while crossing Broadway the carriage was struck by a large touring car. The two side wheels were completely demolished, but luckily no one was seriously injured.

It is said that the driver of the carriage did not see the approaching automobile until too late to turn out.

$9.00 Dining Tables.

LIKE PICTURE.

On sale Monday at the very special price

$5.95

(Third Floor.)

Think of it, a Genuine Solid Oak Golden-finish

Pedestal Dining Table for only $5.95—hardly believable, we know, but that is exactly what you can secure here to-morrow.

Of course, these Tables are decidedly better than what $5.95 would ordinarily buy—they are our regular $9.00 sellers and are offered at $5.95 for Monday only.

Made with 42-inch top and 9-inch pedestal, and open up to 6 feet; the slides are so constructed that binding is impossible and trouble in opening and closing is prevented.

In short and fine—these Tables are the biggest bargains our Furniture Department has offered in many days.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT ENTHUSIASTIC OVER
WORK OF CHRISTIAN MISSIONS IN AFRICA

Former President Writes Ideal Campaign Document For Missionary Societies.

Information comes from former President Roosevelt, partly in his magazine manuscripts and partly in private letters, that he will return home an enthusiast for Christian missions in Africa. He is writing some of his magazine articles on the ground, and one just received, but not yet published, is said to be an ideal campaign document for missionary societies, so warmly does he herald the praises of work that has come under his notice. The former President's enthusiasm takes two forms. One is his enlarged vision of African possibilities. He is immensely impressed with the tremendous resources of the continent, and will come back to preach to American promoters the importance of getting on a big scale.

Among Cossacks formerly came. When the Russian Church sought to work among them the differences between Greek and Russian Catholicisms came to the fore. The Cossacks were aggravated when it was proposed to them that Russian bishops should hold title to the throne of the Cossack patriarch. A bolt followed. Efforts were made for a time to reconcile the trouble, but the Cossacks refused to have to do with the Greek Catholics. The Anglicans also go into the difficulty. Finally a leader arose who leaned to the right. He was a Cossack, and he brought a large number with him to that body. Presbyterians warmly welcomed them, and they were offered an offering him a salary, and the outcome is a new religious body and the likelihood of a Russian Presbyterian Church at no distant day.

No avangelistic Campaigns. Plans for the winter, all of the large cities, far as heard from, do not include any evangelistic campaigns. It is said to be now the conviction of even the foremost evangelists that their former plan of mass meetings, ending with a call for the evangelists to go out and "leave" local agencies to garner the results, if any, has many defects. They now hold, it is said, that the evangelistic campaign, if effective, must be continuous, and that the man who sows the seed must remain and harvest the crop. If there is to be any real evangelism in the next few years to reach this conclusion, but it is now said to be the judgment of practically all ministers in all Protestant bodies.

The other is the progress that has already been made to civilize the African natives, and so to make them useful as laborers and buyers. This progress is both educational and religious, and the missionary organizations have been the sole promoters of it. The societies in question are American societies, the Wesleyan, the Baptist, the Wesleyans and the Church of England. Not much that the former President has seen is the work of American societies, but that fact will not prevent Mr. Roosevelt from commending to the natives the great work which has been accomplished. Always interested in missions, Mr. Roosevelt is reported to be far more so now, having seen the progress that has been made by them. Mr. Roosevelt is in Africa just at the time when the most important changes there are booming through a new interest which natives are taking. The story of the advance fills British missionary publications. American missionary societies are getting ready to use the same facts and arguments. We have him speak of what he has seen when he shall have returned home next year.

The plan that will govern in most cities this year, in this country at least, is the plan of offering the pulpit to pastors themselves. There are exchanges of pulpits to be made in some instances in some cities. I would that I could tell you of the exchange of pulpits between Chicago and New York. I have been told that he may as well remain on the other side of the globe, where he is, as to come to New York. I know that some professional evangelists here have had their applications to campaign committees in several cities refused, and so are not to have a day of the professional evangelist, as of the fortnight or a month stand. It seems to be number one in any rate, he has to be a pastor, and less in some seasons, and this winter he has disappeared altogether from plans for the year, so far as they have been announced.

Oppose General Organizations.

The discussion, that arose among Baptists recently over the proposition to merge the Baptist Young People's Union into the Christian Endeavor Society brought out the fact that to any Christian, holding such sentiment, the church is against the general organizations. A few plants among elderly Baptists, who love the church, and are not young, are then, a mild one, simply was to use the words "Christian Endeavor" before the name of the organization. The fact that is opposed, not so generally out of loyalty to the Baptist effort, as against all such organizations. In this opposition, the church is not in agreement, the ministers are quite as heartily opposed as are members. Some go so far as to say that the church is within a short time come to an end. The opposition arises from overlooking it. It also arises from the lesson that an organization is not the church or real work. Often it is stronger than the

The Rithenian Church.

There has just come into being in this country the Rithenian Church. In one way it is a new body, and in another it is a part of the Presbyterian Church. While Anglicans have talked of uniting with the Catholics, and the Russian and Greek Church, Presbyterians have brought about such union with the Lutherans, and are now to turn Presbyterians. Not long since a strong Rithenian church was organized in the Aleutian Islands, and another in Nome. A national headquarters in Nome has been established, a general missionary, who is at the head of the church, and a general secretary. A week he started upon regular work. The work for him is organizing Greek and Russian churches, and is trying to get them to accept the Presbyterian doctrine and order. The movement is a grand one.

The Rithenians come from Southern Russia, but at home were allied with the Russians. They are a very physically large race, and from them the object it finds for. Its meetings serve as a substitute for church attendance, and its parish society often amounts to little more than another burden for the members. The chief reason for this is that the congregation is itself organization enough. Even so splendid an organization as the Brotherhood of St. Andrew has been known to be so Providence, is on trial in many parishes, and has been barred from many more, just on this ground of exclusiveness. It is not that the Brotherhood is so good, so far as achievement goes, yet it suffers in the change of thought. In all directions there is a cry against organizations, and the Brotherhood is asked to go to work as such. The plan is working among Baptists, and is said to be likely to result not only in defeat, but in the annihilation of the Endeavor, but also in wiping much of the union out altogether.

parts of America has just been formed under the name of the Slavic Baptist Union. The president of it is Vaclav Krallack, of Chicago, and the secretary is Vincente Streler, of Madison, Wis. Members of the Union include congregations of the Hungarians, Bohemians and many other Slavonic peoples of the United States and they have been warmly welcomed to fellowship by the regular Baptists. The organization of the Union was effected in Chicago, Detroit, that will further perfect the Union and its work. The total number of Slavic Baptists in the Union is about one thousand. The churches and workers for the Union include the founding of a theological seminary, the education of young men for mission work, and the extension of the Gospel among the Slavs of the West. The seminary is needed, it is stated, both for America and for Europe. The Union announces that it is now beginning the work of devolving on the laity fully prevalent, that Slaves are not interested in religious matters. An effort is to be made to find employment for the Slaves week-day, and to employ the Lutherans, Roman Catholics, and others, and so to utilize their influence and energies along Baptist lines. An educational propaganda is to be started in the form of a literature so prepared that all Slaves may obtain it.

Week of Prayer.

The week of prayer fixed by the various Protestant brotherhoods two or three years ago for the first week in Advent, has almost wholly supplanted other weeks of prayer, and the preaching season will, if indications are to be relied upon, be a more general one even than heretofore. The dates are November 28 to December 5, and in almost all cities union plans are under way. A general meeting is set for one evening.

The new features this year, so far as plans have yet been reported, are the selection of particular subjects for each meeting, and the making of a program for each Sunday School. The Church and the Workmen," "Civic Righteousness" and "The Volunteer Layman and His Efforts to Help." The other new features are: a program of giving information concerning each these topics after the manner of great gatherings, and so save the time of speakers at the meetings, besides securing a wider and more permanent spread of the facts relative to the topic conferred about and prayed for. In the larger cities this year these leaflets will be prepared expressly for the city where used, and will show the record of that city in aid of the particular cause. The advance in general observance and in method of this week of prayer is most marked, and never more so than promises this year.

Closed Books For Year.
The American Missionary Association, one of the half-dozen largest missionary agencies of the country, and a medium for the benevolence of Congressmen, in their efforts to reach and civilize the Indians of the Northwest, mountain whites and other dependent peoples, has just closed its books for the year ending June 30, 1906, with a $500 over last year. The amount paid in from the recent campaign to wipe out the debts on the Congressional benevolence fund, was $100,000. The association ends its year with a handsome balance and all of its debts paid. Such showing is a credit to the association, and is a saving through the closest scrutiny of expenditures, and in many instances the saving of money by the association until later and better years. Against the charge that Indians make all of the trouble for the association, the association makes the statement that last year they gave much more than they took.

Before. So said the negroes. The allowance of gifts of both Indians and negroes last year amounted to over

The association has helped the Alaskan Esquimaux to utilize the reindeer herds which have been discovered. It is reported that some years ago, at the instance of a Presbyterian missionary, Lapland reindeer herds were brought from Lapland some reindeer herds and gave them to the Esquimaux of Alaska to help him solve not his transportation problem but his problem of lack of food and clothing. To teach the Esquimaux to care for the animals Lapland missionaries were sent to live in Alaska at good salaries, which the Government paid. There was reluctance to trust the Esquimaux with the reindeer herds, but the missionaries appeared as permanent residents, with steady jobs paid for out of the allowance of the Government.
One of the association's missionaries, a white man from New England, accepting no salary for the extra work, and the Esquimaux of the community, saved the stipends, took a Government reindeer herd and taught the Esquimaux to care for the animals.
The outcome has been that the herd has enormously increased in number and value, and last year brought in $100,000 for the Government.
Success with the reindeer has been so marked that the Government is endeavoring to encourage the Esquimaux of Alaska. On the whole, the experiment tried at the suggestion of the Presbyterian missionary, of importing or transplanting reindeer herds to Alaska, has been a success beyond expectation.

GOV. JOHNSON'S BOOKS.
(Nashville Banner.)
The late Gov. John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, was requested by a young man to tell him what books had had most influence on his life and career. The Governor, in his letter replying to his request, said:
"As to books which influenced me, I

THE BIGGEST BASS HORN.

(A Pittsburg Dispatch.)

When the Sellengrove Silver Chorus Band, of this city, was called upon for the largest brass horn in the country, rumor had it that they were not only going to win the prize, but that they were a rare calamity laid in wait for some one of their number. For to the musician who has to play a horn of this size, it is a physical trial to his bell it would be easy to say, to everyone believed. And when the band, requested that the instrument be loaned to them, they were met with astonishment. Mr. Phillips was just recuperating from typhoid fever, and at the same time, he was suffering from a tremendous job that he was undertaking. To handle an instrument that could carry a note that would be heard by a crowd of less than only two inches. Now, however, he has recovered from his illness, and he feels, which he attributes to the lung exercise afforded by his daily practice of the instrument, that he is now fit to play. Phillips says, is not derogatory, either. Being an able performer, he enjoys the work, and he is not at all tired of the great amount of blowing he is compelled to do when playing the big bass horn of the band. And, while the handmaster knows that the rest of the band is all right, he is not at all anxious to let any other people come to their concerns to watch Phillips blow, and get a good look at the instrument, to hear what it is down of the programme.

GIRLS ARE MANY

But Men Are Few In Frankfort Society.

APPROACH OF WINTER BRINGS SOCIAL ACTIVITY.

"LOTTERS" ENTERTAINED BY MESDAMES ADAMS AND BERRY.

BRIDGE CLUBS REORGANIZED.

(Correspondence of the Courier-Journal.)
Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 16.—The show is over! The wind, like noisy carpenters, will be busy all this month taking down the scenery of green, red and gold. In this respect Frankfort society is "close to nature's heart." Only there is this difference, while nature is "putting all things to sleep," the socially frivolous are getting ready to stay awake all winter.

It is the calm before the storm. In the past few days there have been signs of returning wakefulness—a stretching of limbs, air, capacious yawning heard in the valley. The reorganizations of the tried and true bridge clubs and the initial meeting of the gay "Lotters Club" were but beginnings that inspired hope in the heart of the society editor.

Men Are Few.

The cause? That's easily answered. Men! We may rail at their inconsistencies, their follies, their nonchalance and vanity, but whatever we may say or do, they are, and will continue to be, a most necessary evil.

If there were more of the male persuasion in the Capital of Kentucky there would be more society functions. If there were more men there would be more weddings, and with more weddings would be "showers" and "showers" for the bride, and so on through a long list of social affairs.

It's really a bit disheartening. An Eastern woman in the city for a few days last week en route to the Louisville Horse Show said to a friend: "So many pretty women here; so many well-dressed girls."

And she spoke the truth. Do not misunderstand me—these well-dressed, good-looking and well-groomed women are not husband hunting—that's one of the prime reasons for their remaining in the single state—methinks, they are a bit hard to please—but all the same, if there were more men—more competition in love, as well as in other things of the moment, there would be more activity along lines social.

Speaking of single blessedness reminds us of a certain danger, namely, that it would be heresy to call "old," who declares she intends leaving her modest fortune to the old maid who will wear before the court, that she never had a chance to change her state of single blessedness.

Old Maids Delightful.

Now there is nothing so delightful as an old maid—when she has quit "struggling." This old maid, has long ago quit "struggling," if she ever struggled, and she is as bright and as refreshing as a morning in May. True, "very" once in a while she gets post cards depicting her with visage sour and appropriate mottoes on them. These, however, are a libel against her character. No sour visage on that woman's face. Somehow she is so in accord with your ideas of good companionship, and so jolly that you go away with the conviction that she has made more than one man miserable.

Concerning her charm, a girl of 20 years has many doubts—a woman of 40 years has none.

This old maid has a sock full of dollars to leave. But there will be one found who will swear that she has never had a chance to make some man miserable for life. Go to! Woman! Give your money to some orphan asylum—where married people send their offspring when they get too poor to live!

But never will there be a call for that money. To admit that one man has had his head turned by the charm—real or imaginary, of these old maids! The very idea is preposterous! An indignity beyond words! Let her keep her pretty dollars and endow a home for stray cats.

Meeting of the "Lotters."

If old John Lotters, of Holland, who in the year 1854 made a "thimble," or chimney, of leather, for his sweetheart's finger, could have peeped into the cozy home of Mrs. M. B. Adams, on the South Side, last Thursday afternoon—where she and Mrs. Hiram Berry were entertaining the club named in his honor—he would have had a real eye opener.

The invention of this useful little article for female use was the outgrowth of love. And what invention and what- ever that is useful and lasting has not had its growth and permanence to that divine passion?

Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Berry were such agreeable and fascinating hostesses that the guests invited to meet with them actually had to be invited home that a business meeting might be held after the refreshments were served.

For the occasion the house was beautified with a number of handsome palms and house plants. Scarlet sage, in its vivid beauty to the parlors and library.

While the guests were tucking away the bits of handkerchief in their pocket, work bags Miss Harriet McClure sang two of three old favorites and was warmly thanked for the added pleasure.

New Gowns Worn.

Most of these mesdames were out in new fall frocks, but many still clung to their summer frocks. It is an unwritten law of the club that all members shall bring along a bit of work and make a pretense of sewing. The club was formed at the instance of Mrs. E. B. Abbott, an ex-president, now living in Louisville, to promote conversation—but now, that so much conversation has been promoted, it is likely to do away entirely with the gorgeous silk work bags—that "mish mash" carries so ostentatiously around her.

Misses Clint Cunningham, Jennie Parrish Bailey and Sarah Lockett served the refreshments and afterward coffee and chocolate were served.

Compass Club Meets With Mrs. Van Winkle.

The Compass Bridge Club has swung into line and has been entertaining two or three times during the past fortnight.

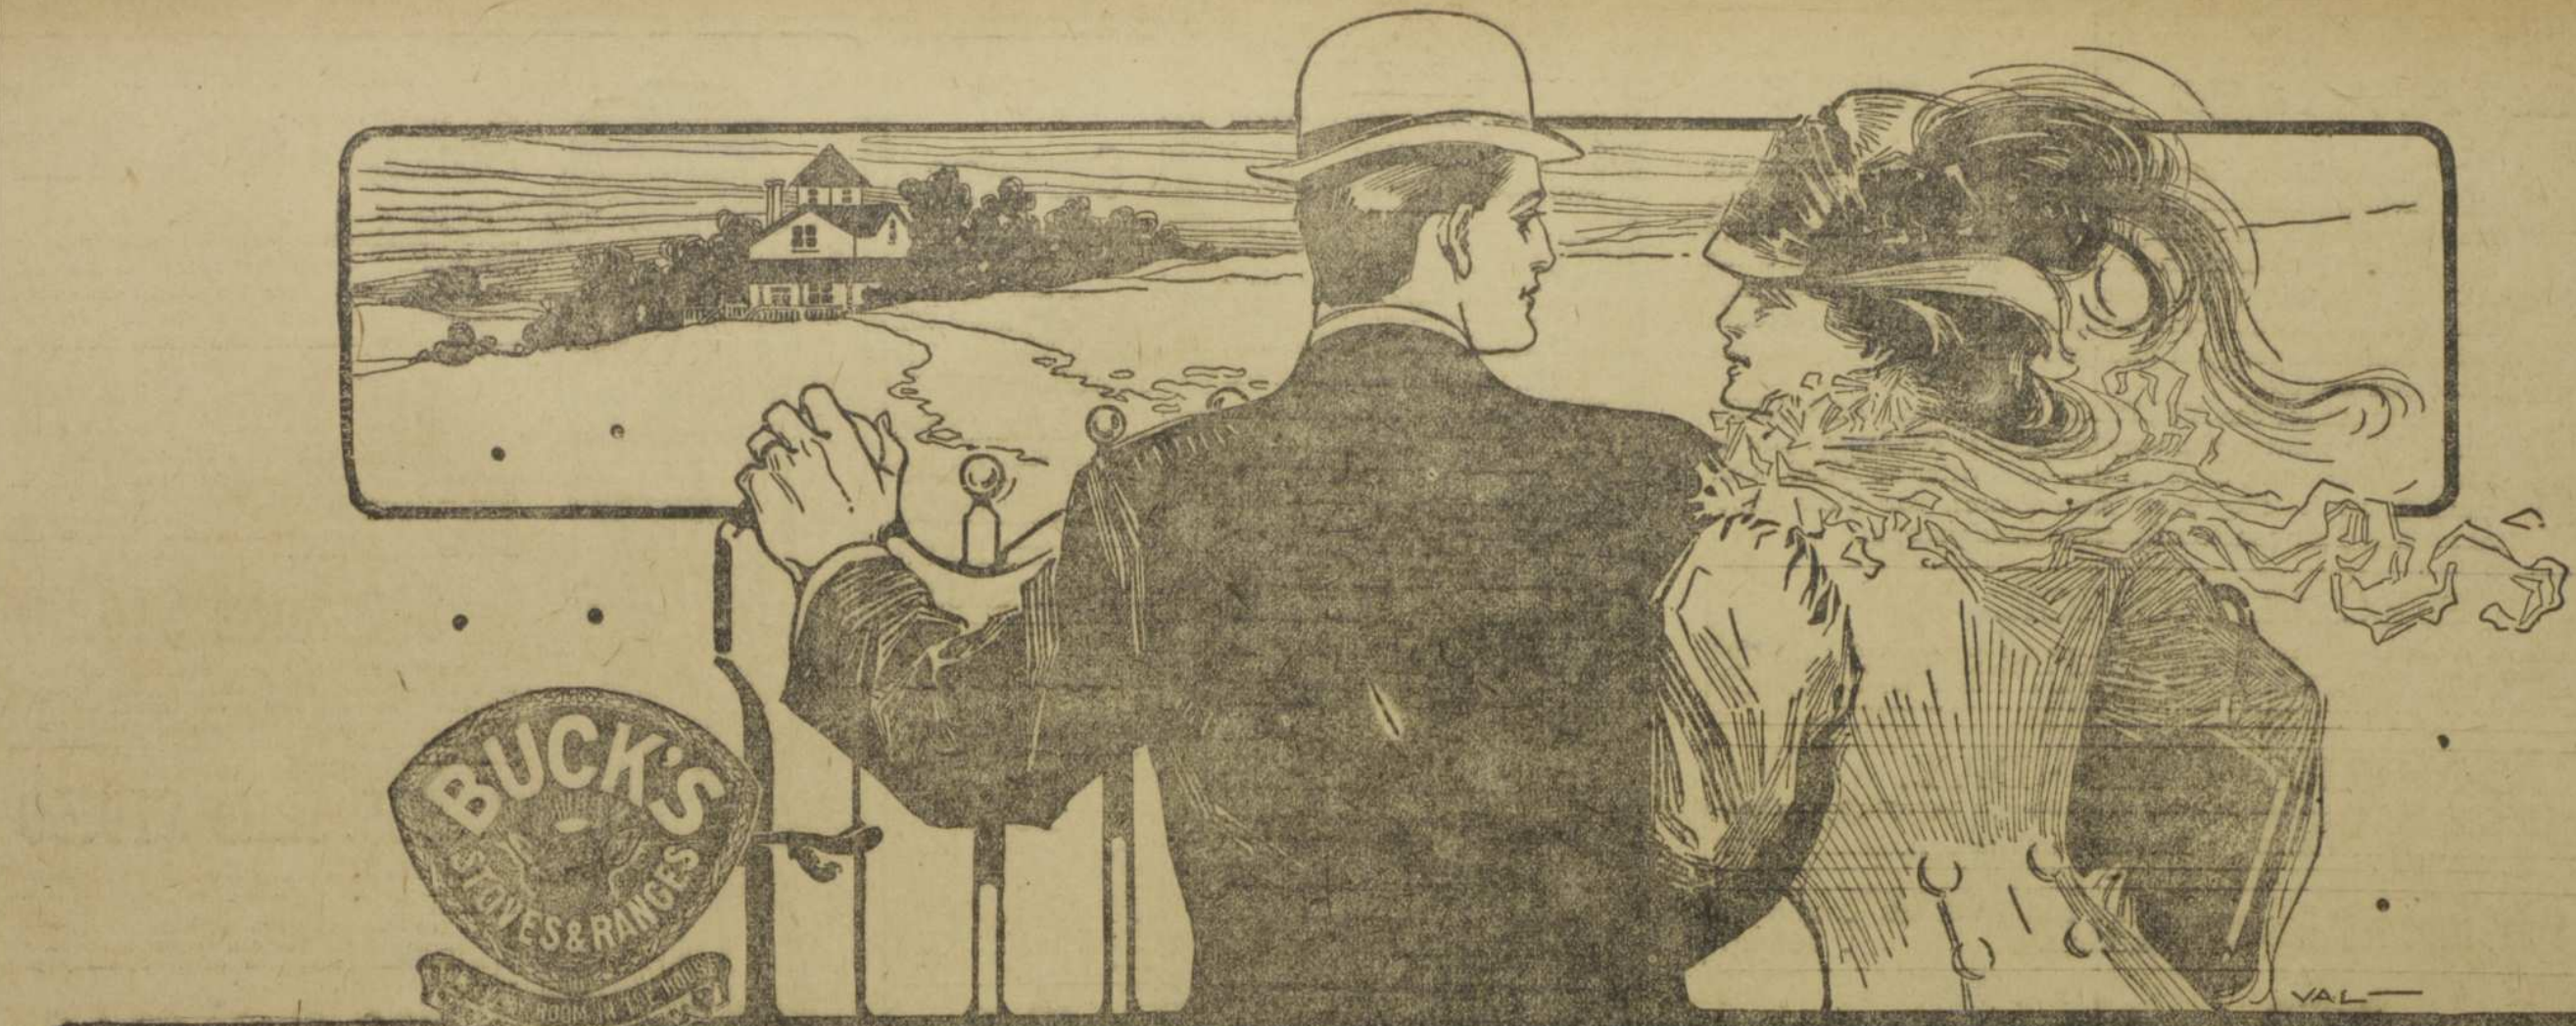

Mrs. A. C. Van Winkle was the hostess last Thursday and nearly all the members were present in their gay tops.

This club attends strictly to business and no decorations, thank you, are needed. In the absence of male companions, the members have their minds diverted by a luncheon and then return to the deck with added vigor.

The ten scores on the North and South were made by Miss Carrie Wofford and Mrs. Will Grayson. On the East and West by Mrs. W. F. Dandridge and Mrs. Tom Hall.

Attending the Horse Show.

Col. C. E. Hoge and family have had a box at the Louisville Horse show during the past week. On Thursday they were present when Mr. Hoge's fine bay horse, stallion captured the blue ribbon—and that, too, over a horse that had taken the blue ribbon at the Madison Square Garden the year below—that's going home, and Mr. Hoge's friends came around in groups to congratulate him. In the Colonel's bag were Mrs. Henry Frey and children, Master Charles Frey, the Colonel's grandchild, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoge and a few friends.

Miss Mary Belle Holton and Miss Missin Montgomery were in attendance last week. Miss Montgomery's friends were anxious for her to ride on her handsome horse that captured the blue ribbon during the Bluegrass Fair, but she could not be persuaded. Miss Montgomery is very staid-looking, on horseback and ground—her friends confidently assert—have brought back a prize.

The parlors of the hotel have recently been redecorated and now hang in tones of gold and green. Beautiful palms and ferns added to the beauty that met the eyes of the guests present.

The flowers used in the decorations were "My Maryland" roses. These were effectively placed on the tables and mantle.

After a most interesting game of dominoes refreshments were served. Two club prizes were offered and these were won by Mrs. A. C. Van Winkle, a silver olive fork, and Mrs. John W. Rodman won the other, a cut glass olive dish.

Mr. D. W. Lindsey, Jr., won the substitute prize, a silver dish.

Supper for the "Newly Weds."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hay, themselves recent recruits to the ranks of the "Newly Weds," entertained Mr. and Mrs. Will Havercraft, of Greenville, Miss., with a delightful supper one day last week.

In the Average Shoe Store

The trouble is that the salesman is so very important an individual, that his time is so exceedingly valuable and his store of shoe knowledge so vast that you must "hurry up and buy." You can feel it in his every move, you catch it in his curt, snappy answers. You leave the store feeling that a self-important and insolent personage has forced a pair of shoes upon you and you know they are not the shoes you wanted.

So much for the AVERAGE shoe store. At BYCK'S what YOU want is the very thing that WE want you to have. YOU don't cater to us—WE cater to YOU. Our clerks know it—they have been chosen for their experience and their courteous treatment of patrons.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We have installed a new department in the nature of a large and complete stock of high-grade specialty shoes for women, to sell at $3. All lasts, all leathers, lace and button. In placing this shoe on sale, we say to you that it is superior to any shoe in America today.

Concert at Fourth Avenue Methodist Church!

A concert will be given by the choir of the Fourth-Avenue Methodist Church in the chapel, Fourth street, at 4 o'clock, on Friday evening, October 22, for the benefit of the Hymnal Fund. A very attractive programme has been arranged, and the beautiful hymns of the hymnal will be given in addition to a group of songs by each of the singers. The following will be heard: Mrs. Jessie Bowman Webb, Mrs. L. S. Hadden, Mrs. J. H. Sample, Mrs. Percy Parsons, Mr. C. A. Deming. An admission of 50c will be charged.

The Care of the Hair

Women's crowning glory should be of interest to all. If gray or bleached hair, or color or any shade desired, is to be retained, it is essential to use the Imperial Hair Regenerator, the Standard Hair Color, or the Gray or Bleached Hair, its use makes the hair grow again, and it is not affected by baths, permits washing, and is not washed out. Sample of your hair colored free by mail. Write to: IMPERIAL HAIR COLOR, 125 W. 2nd St., New York, N. Y. Sold by Taylor & Co., Incorporated, Buchanan-Brown.

This Is a Piano Every Member of the Family Would Enjoy.

Why?

Because one needs no music lessons to play it. Simply insert a roll of music and pump.

Each roll is marked so that a novice can secure just the desired effect, from soft to loud, and vice versa—fast or slow, just as each person would like it. Summed up in a very few words, the

Farrand-Cecilian

Is a Godsend to the Person Who Loves Music and Cannot Play.

Think of the many pleasant evenings you could spend at home with this wonderful instrument, where without it the evening would no doubt be devoid of music. Now if you love music, can you afford to be without it? We say no—a thousand times no.

We have sold them to hundreds of families and if you would come in and read some of the letters that the owners write us, telling the pleasure they derive from the Farrand-Cecilian, we know it would not be long before you would want one—why not come in and investigate the subject? We certainly would be glad to give you any information you desire; it does not matter whether you intend purchasing or not, come in and ask questions—that's what we are here for.

Now, why should you buy a Farrand-Cecilian in preference to any other?

Music Roll Library.

By purchasing a Farrand-Cecilian you have access to a library of nearly 15,000 selections; most anything that you desire. Our library is the largest and most complete carried by any house in the country. And our plan is such that you can enjoy this library free. Music will fit any player; be sure and ask us about it.

First—It contains the Metal Action Player Mechanism—an exclusive feature. The greatest improvement in Player mechanism that has ever been made; it does away with all troubles, insuring the owner that they can always play regardless of the weather conditions—other Player Pianos have Player actions made of wood, and wood expands and contracts, thereby causing leaks, and when a leak occurs you cannot secure the desired results, and results are what you want, and that is what you get when you buy a Farrand-Cecilian.

Second—It is the easiest pumping Player on the market—that is one reason why the children like to play it (this is the feature that should not be overlooked) as they can do so for hours without fatigue.

We could go on and on giving reasons, but space will not allow it, so if you are interested come in or write and we will send you a booklet which explains each and every feature contained in the Farrand-Cecilian.

Terms.

If you do not care to pay cash for a Farrand-Cecilian, we can arrange terms to suit most anyone. If you have a piano, we will take that as part payment. Ask us to look at your piano and give you an estimate on what we will allow for it.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION OF THE CATHOLIC TRUTH SOCIETY PROVES NOTABLE AFFAIR

Lasts Three Days and Leaves Deep Impression Upon All Who Attend.

(Contributed by International Catholic Truth Society.)
New York, Oct. 16, 1909.—A notable gathering took place at Manchester, England, on September 30. It was the celebration of the silver jubilee of the Catholic Truth Society, which was founded in 1854, under the patronage of the late Cardinal Vaughan, then Bishop of Salford. From all parts of the United Kingdom came Catholics to take part in this celebration, which lasted for three days, and left a deep impression on all who attended. Among the most scholarly addresses was that given by Abbot Gasquet, the noted historian, and the attention of the audience was given with great satisfaction to a masterly address on Socialism by Francis Holmes, literary editor of the Morning Post. The Duke of Norfolk presided at one of the sessions.

An unusual feature of this year's meeting was the extraordinary attention given, not only to sociological problems, but particularly to those affecting the interests of women. Dr. Casaroli, bishop of Salford, under whose auspices this conference was called, recognized the importance of having an evening given over to the women. They turned out by the thousands. The hall in which the meeting was held was entirely inadequate to accommodate them. A large overflow meeting was held in an adjoining hall.

Speakers of a high order of excellence were read by such women as Mrs. Wilfred Ward, who has an international reputation as a writer. The social problems were again prominent in these discussions. Manchester being a great manufacturing center, the lower affecting women workers came in for a due share of consideration. No one who listened to these papers could accuse the Catholic women of England of not being fully abreast of the times. Under the patronage of the archbishop of Westminster, Catholic Women's League is being formed, with branches in various parts of the British Isles.

contribution that they might go into battle prepared to die, and every man received a medal. In the One Hundred and Sixtieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria, but every man was on his knees to receive general absolution. "Some people have the wrong idea with regard to Catholics as Americans and patriots. But if you want to see evidence of Catholic leaders, you have only to go to the front and walk the line. They were Christian soldiers that fought that battle, but the only evidence on that battlefield is when you come to the Battle of the Marston, and you will see that on the front line a monument to the Catholic Sixty-ninth of Pennsylvania. "There they met Pickett, and fell in that awful charge. Probably 25 per cent. were killed or wounded. Do you know what that means? The famous Light Brigade lost 37 per cent. You have only to go to Gettysburg to test Catholic loyalty to the country.

"The first man to suggest this monument was a lady, an English, Miss Cunningham of Newcastle, Pa. He said: 'I will never rest until I see a monument to Father Corby.'"

"Father Corby was not only a gallant soldier but an American born. He belonged to the Grand Army of the Republic, to a post consisting entirely of priests and brothers. He died in command of that post, and we buried him with military honors."

Mother Mary founded the houses, including twelve homes for the orphan and those who fall by the wayside, and in these institutions 1,040 inmates are sheltered. The schools number 137, and are attended by 12,469 pupils, from among whom every year come most brilliant successes in the public competitive examinations. Mother Mary's daughters are working in every State in Australia and New Zealand.

But Four Colored Priests.

There are at present four colored priests in this country. Three of them are members of St. Joseph's Society, commonly called the Josephites, and the fourth is a member of the congregation of the Holy Ghost.

The first is the Rev. Charles Randolph Ucles, born in Baltimore, who was ordained by his eminence Cardinal Gibbons, in the Baltimore Cathedral in 1881. Since his ordination Father Ucles has been professor in the Epiphany Apostolic College at Walbrook, Baltimore, Md.

The second is the Rev. John H. Dorsey, ordained priest in the United States in 1902. Father Dorsey is now teaching in St. Joseph's College for negro catechists in Montgomery, Ala., and assisting in the management of that institution.

The third is the Rev. Joseph J. Planter, born in Louisiana. He has recently been appointed assistant at St. Francis Xavier's church in Baltimore, one of the largest and oldest of colored Catholic parishes.

The fourth is the Rev. Stephen J. Theobald, who is now reading a distinguished course at St. Paul Seminary, under Archbishop Ireland's auspices. The Rev. Theobald has lately been advanced to the diaconate, and he will, after his ordination in June, take his place among the clergy of the diocese of St. Paul.

Old-Age Pensions.

The Compañia Transatlantica, of Barcelona, Spain, grants old-age pensions and sick benefits to its men, conditions a savings bank, which pays 3 per cent. on interest deposits, and has various other philanthropic schemes for encouraging loyalty among its employees. It conducts a co-operative store, a truly co-operative, conducted by the men and for their benefit. All this regards the persons of the company, but there is another feature which shows that not all corporations are soulless.

COUNTING UNCLE SAM'S VAST HOARD OF WEALTH

CHARLES H. TREAT,
THE RETIRING TREASURER.

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY
WALDON FAWCETT.

(Correspondence of the Courier-Journal.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Counting billions of dollars in all forms of money and all kinds of securities is the Herculean task that now confronts an important branch of our national Government. The necessity for thus taking stock of Uncle Sam's hoard arose quite unexpectedly. Indeed, such an invoice of the Government's financial resources has never been taken at stated intervals, as a merchant takes inventory or a banker balances his accounts periodically. The summons for a re-counting of the republic's treasure invariably comes, as this one did, at comparatively short notice. A special squad of the most expert money handlers in the world will be organized to enumerate all the coin and currency and bonds in the Federal storehouse and this body of perhaps three dozen men and women will work steadily for weeks and months in the money caverns that constitute the national fortress against panic.

The necessity of this lengthy and costly job arises from the shifting of responsibilities in the office of the Treasurer of the United States. In the eyes of the major portion of the newspaper-reading public, the recent announcement that Charles H. Treat had resigned as Treasurer did not seem to carry near the significance that would be attached to a change in the personnel of the President's Cabinet or perhaps the passing of a leader in the United States Senate. However, with the first hint of Mr. Treat's intention to leave the Government service, the Federal employees most directly interested—that is, the Treasury clerks who will have to carry on the big count—in effect had notice of the big chore that awaits them, for, be it known such a wholesale census of the Government's financial resources is taken only when one man steps down as Treasurer and another takes his place. Something that is scarcely expected to happen often than once in four years at the most.

Has Charge of All Funds.

The responsibilities of the Treasurer of the United States make necessary a very careful balancing of accounts at a time such as this, arise from the fact that this official is, by law, charged with the receipt and disbursement of all public moneys not only in the Treasury at Washington, but also in the subtreasuries at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans and San Francisco, and in the national bank United States depositories. He is also trustee of the bonds held to secure national bank circulation and the public deposits in national banks, so that this head paymaster of the Government has in his keeping not only all of Uncle Sam's wealth, but hundreds of millions of dollars of other people's money, which he must keep in such shape as to be able to render an accounting at any day and hour.

Now, when the new Treasurer of the United States takes over the office he will be expected to give the outgoing Treasurer a receipt in full for all the moneys in his keeping. Naturally, he will not want to do this without assuring himself that all the funds are intact to the last dollar and penny—hence the big count. As may be surmised, this appraisal of what Uncle Sam has laid by for a rainy day cannot be exactly coincident with the entry and exit in the Treasurer's office. To count one by one all the bills and gold pieces and silver and copper coin in the governmental hoard is a time-consuming task and the new Treasurer will probably have been in office three or four months and perhaps even six months ere he is in a position to hand to the outgoing official a formal receipt closing the transfer. Of course, if the count of the money and securities should show any shortage from the total amount called for by the books, the retiring official will have to make good out of his own pocket—which is rather hard since subordinates handle the funds and do all the counting—and this has never occurred since the present scheme of settling accounts was adopted.

While this figuring over all forms of legal tender will be country wide in scope owing to Uncle Sam's cordon of branch offices stretching across the continent, the big end of the job and the most spectacular phases of it will have their locale in the Treasury building in this city, where the bulk of Uncle Sam's wealth is stored. There are upward of a score of different vaults in the Treasury building and everyone of these capacious strong boxes will be investigated by the money monitors charged with the task of verifying the Government bookkeeping. If the plan of previous counts is followed, the counting of the coin, which is bulky, will be entrusted almost entirely to men, whereas the enumeration of the bills and bonds will be largely in the hands of young women, who, experience has demonstrated, are defter at such work than their masculine coworkers. Indeed, at the previous event of this kind some of the most expert of the young women developed an ability to count 20,000 bills in five hours.

The young women who are engaged in this work will be enabled to give their undivided attention to counting the bills. Male assistants will be at hand to give out the bundles of money to be counted and to take charge of them as the count of each package is finished. The fastest work in this whole big undertaking is done in counting the reserve fund—that is the millions upon millions of dollars in brand new currency that is held in reserve ready to be issued whenever called for.

This wealth is in the form of crisp bills, ranging in denomination from $1 to $10,000 each. There are thousands of bundles of this paper money, each bundle containing 4,000 notes of one denomination. Inside a main bundle of the size indicated are forty small packages, each containing one hundred notes. Thus a bundle containing 4,000,000 in $10,000 bills is no bulker to handle and no more trouble to count than a package containing 4,000 in $1 bills.

An official of the Treasury will have personal charge of the count and working under him will be a force recruited in the ratio of about five counters to one bundle and sealer. As the count progresses each package in turn has the heavy wax seal broken and is unwrapped by one of the men, who hands it to the women counters, taking her receipt for the bundle of money. She proceeds to count the bills, and for the package is found to contain the amount called for turns it back with an endorsement as to its correctness, and the receipt, which she has given is destroyed or returned to her. Each package which is pronounced O. K. is taken in hand by the sealers and sealers, re-wrapped, labeled and sealed with the great dabs of red wax, bearing the official Treasury seal, so that at the end of the proceeding the package looks just as it did before work began. The women employed at the Treasury Department are famous as the most expert currency counters in the world and the most highly skilled of the forces will be drafted for the forthcoming extra undertaking. Contrary to the supposition of many people, the counters at the Treasury in counting a package of currency actually lift each note by the upper right-hand corner. To be sure the women are aided in their work and have a check on accuracy by keeping tab on the progression of the numbers printed in blue ink on the face of all notes, the notes in a package being placed in regular rotation, but aside from this supplementary scheme for verification, the actual counting is the good old-fashioned way. Records as high as 6,000 notes an hour have been made by the most expert of the counters, but Uncle Sam's speed work cannot be maintained for any great length of time. A most important feature of the forthcoming task will be the counting of the bonds held by the Government as security for the redemption of national banks and as security for Government money deposited with the banks. These bonds are stored in the Treasury building and they total something like three-quarters of a billion dollars in value. A committee of seven officers of coin will be necessary in going over the bonds, coupon and registered, it is expected that at least two months will be necessary for this task alone. The last time a count of the bonds was made, six weeks was allowed for the task, but Uncle Sam's speed work cannot be maintained for any great length of time.

Most Coin To Be Weighed.

The counting of the coin—gold, silver, nickel and copper—in the possession of the Government constitutes yet another branch of the Herculean task. In the case of the coin the term "counting" must not be taken too literally, for, as a matter of fact, much of the accumulation of coin will be weighed on the delicate scales at the Treasury instead of counted. Weighing, in the case of freshly-struck coins, is used only as a check on the accuracy of the numbers of coins as placed in bags and sealed as standards. The sum of $5,000 in gold weighs eighteen and one-half pounds; five hundred silver dollars are supposed to tip the scales at 35½ pounds and $200 in half dollars, that is four hundred coins, weigh eleven pounds. In weighing coin at the Treasury very accurate tally has to be kept by tellers who stand beside the scales and record the outcome of each operation.

Although the weighing of coin will doubtless be resorted to for the major portion of the forthcoming accounting, the method of work is now being displaced in Uncle Sam's money storehouses by an ingenious new type of electrically-actuated machine, which counts coins of any denomination at the rate of one thousand per minute. An automatic registering device, equipped with absolute accuracy, dimes, nickels and cents are more difficult to count by hand than the larger coins, but the handling of these minor coins has been greatly facilitated in recent years by the introduction of counting boards, which all mechanically when a stream of coin is poured over them. Each of these, when full, holds a given number of coins or bags when filled with coins are daily sealed in the same way as the packages of bills are sealed, but the closing of the opening of a coin sack is not done with a stick of wax, as in the case of the currency parcels, but with a mechanical appliance that can be held in one hand and somewhat resembles in appearance the punch used by the average street-car conductor.

RUSSIAN RAILWAY THIEVES STOLE GOODS WORTH $14,000,000

WARSAW, Oct. 4.—Now awaiting their trial in Moscow prisons are the two alleged leaders and 150 members of the biggest band of railway thieves Europe has ever seen. They worked chiefly in the south of Russia and had no less than 400 accomplices, of whom the larger half were well-dressed, plausible women. Their aim was not to rob passengers, but freight trains and luggage vans, and so successful were they that since the foundation of the gang four years ago they have been spirited away goods to the annual value of over $2,000,000.

If it had not been for the letter one of them wrote to a newspaper and the policeman, Dolenko, who watched the writer of the letter until he caught him making up imitation consignments, they might have been going on now. Several policemen were in their pay, but Dolenko refused to be bribed and, by his honesty and perseverance did much to run the thieves to earth. Their impudence and coolness were the chief reasons for the success they so long enjoyed.

Well-Organized Band.

Their organization was well managed. The leaders, it is claimed, were two men employed as track engineers who knew the ins and outs of the railroad business. Under their guidance, it is charged, the band organized a number of departments, of which the chief was the intelligence department, which informed them when and where goods of value were being sent. The chief workers were well-dressed women, who used to go into the big shops and warehouses and, under pretext of having some trifles they had bought there, sent well packed, would ask questions which led to their getting the information they wanted. These women worked chiefly in St. Petersburg, Warsaw, Moscow and Odessa. When they heard that some valuable goods were just going to be sent from Odessa to the Caucasus, for instance, they laid telegraph to the nearest agent at Tiflis, who, if necessary, would ride to the station on a motorcycle in order to get the things in time. Very often the same goods were sent back to Odessa, where the band had large warehouses, under the name of some fictitious firm. So quickly were the goods stolen and sent to the various warehouses in all the big cities that even such things as fancy goods, which fade and go out of fashion quickly, were sold, as their books show, for as good prices as were originally asked by the makers.

Had Telegraphic Code.

The thieves had a special telegraphic code, which was changed twice a year, and when the goods were found in the St. Petersburg warehouses invoices and bills of lading exactly imitating the regulation forms issued by the railways were found. Another important branch was the so-called "railway department," which, needless to say, included shipping clerks at the chief railway stations. The dispatch of goods is very slow in Russia. Before all the formalities are over and a freight train is at liberty to take the stuff several days, and even weeks, must elapse. The goods, packed and labeled, are placed in railway warehouses to which the shipping clerks have entrance. They worked as follows:

A wholesale dealer sent a crate or two of valuable goods from St. Petersburg to Moscow. The spies at St. Petersburg gave notice of this to the band's chief office, which was at Rostoff-on-Don, giving, as near as possible, the date of the dispatch. Then the Rostoff-on-Don thieves wired on the information to the stations at St. Petersburg and Moscow in cipher, addressing it to the clerk, who happened to be in their service. He looked out for these particular crates, an easy task, as he knew the name of the sender and the firm's representative. The crates went into the storehouse to await the time of departure.

Bogus Invoice Used.

Then the expedition clerk made out another invoice like the one he had given to the merchant and sent it to the band's agent at Moscow, making it in the name of a station a few miles from Moscow, on the St. Petersburg line. In all other respects the paper was identical with the other. Then, with a couple more of accomplices, he went to the station warehouse, had the crates exactly copied, put stones or dirt into the sham ones, which were addressed to Moscow itself, while the real ones were addressed to the little station at Moscow. If necessary, the accomplices there would be advised, by wire, to make difficulties about forwarding the sham crates for a day or two.

Of course, when the man at Moscow found that he had got stones instead of the goods he had ordered he went to the station and demanded compensation, but as the bills were all in order and the numbers tallied, he did not get it. For years complaints were made about this and last spring all the papers were full of indignant letters from merchants who had been robbed. One openly accused the shipping clerks of robbery. This episode was answered shortly in the same paper by a clerk from Wino, who wrote thus: "Dear Mr. Editor: Your reader X accuses us shipping clerks of having a hand in the robbery that got on in the various railways. Of course we steal. I not only admit, but am proud of it. And what is more, we shall go on stealing until our chiefs grow honest and we are paid a living wage for our hard work. As to X, if he likes to know, I had a hand in getting his last consignment turned into stone. I will tell him how I did it if he wants to know. Yours truly,

"A SHIPPING CLERK AT WINO."

Some people thought this a joke, but it turned out afterward that it was true, and, thanks to this imprudent piece of "cheek," the police were able to find out who sent it, and thus discover some of the band, though 350 more are still at liberty.

Goods Sold At Warehouses.

When the goods reached the various thieves' repositories "a new consignment" was advertised in the local papers and they were sold almost at once. The agents in charge of these were experienced warehousemen and vendors, and large numbers of office books, supposed to contain accounts of transactions with various big firms, were found by the police. These were shown to customers, to prove that the goods came from reliable houses. The original organizers of the band traveled about to the various depots and stations, it is alleged, and kept a faithful account of all the transactions. As they inspected the railways for the Government nobody was surprised to see them at stations, talking with railway clerks. At time went on the band grew richer and more powerful, and to allow the various accomplices to get about quicker.

The strongest feature of this organization was the department of spies, some 250 in number, who were familiar with every large shipping house in Southern Russia and so well organized that not one large consignment left Moscow for the Caucasus but they knew of and reported it. Not only did they frequent business houses, but they did a great deal of their work in restaurants, where they talked to merchants' clerks, invited them to supper and unloosed their tongues to talk about their employer's business.

Woman Spy's Narrow Escape.

One strange story is told of one of the women spies. She had scraped an acquaintance with a young manager of a forwarding house in Moscow and used to meet him at cafes, restaurants and places of amusement. One day he went to a public telephone, and as he was about to be connected a voice said: "Is that the police station?" "Yes," answered the youth, half in fun. To his surprise the answer was taken seriously and the voice at the other end of the wire gave orders that the police

BETWEEN Midway and Versailles there is a picturesque old stone building whose history even yet causes thrills of terror to the neighboring darkies. In the early slave days this was a jail for incorrigible and runaway slaves. If a master could not control his slave the latter was taken there until a purchaser could be found—whether or not the purchaser was left in ignorance of the slave's shortcomings is not recorded. This is authoritatively claimed to have been the first jail in Kentucky. While the masonry is still sound, the water standing in the lower rooms and the general neglect of the place gives it an air of such weird desolation that it is small wonder the place is feared by the superstitious.

Operated Since 1805.

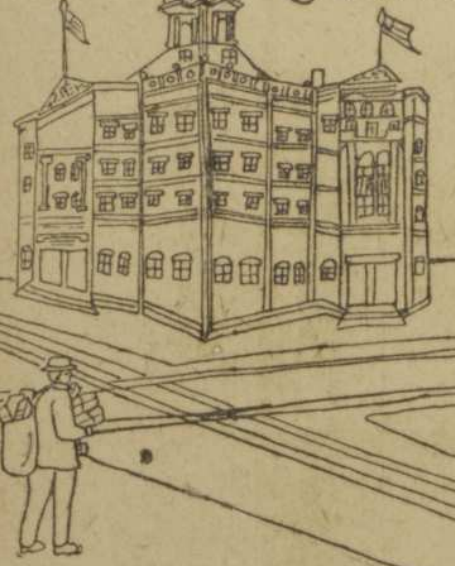

So far very few of the stacks of papers found in the band's repositories and at Rostoff-on-Don, have been examined, but those already gone over prove that all of the 400 members profited according to their activity. The band was formed towards the end of 1905 and soon numbered over 200 members, scattered over Southern Russian railway lines. Sokolov and Pitrenko seem to have been its life and soul from the beginning and, naturally, handling the things back to their repository, that he had paid for his own stolen goods.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor creases and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page is bound into a dark, possibly black or dark brown, inner cover material. The overall lighting is even, highlighting the subtle variations in the paper's tone.

Dear Auntie and Cousins: Here I come again with a bothsome letter. Rowena, yours are always so interesting that I read them about half a dozen times. I think the paper would be just what Aunt Ruth's weekly chats. They are always so interesting. We have not heard from Ivanhoe and Rosalind for a long time. There are a good many new cousins each week, but the old cousins don't seem to write as much as they ought to.

Emma Marmon and Mary May Wyman, you are certainly fortunate in winning prizes and buttons. I have won two buttons, and it doesn't seem as if I will win any more. I am quite sure that I will never win a prize. Ah! Prince Dorian, it did not seem long to find out who you are. Giving the name of your town and telling that you won two prizes were good hints. You middle initial is W. isn't it? Polly of the Circus, you may converse with my husband all you please. I am not so sure that you are not a girl. Bobby, did you receive my postcard? I hope you did. Did you get your letter was so interesting. I know who you are, but will not dare tell. Thanks for the compliment you paid to my mom, Betty Lewis. Aunt Ruth, I think we have three cousins named Betty, haven't we? Aunt Ruth, don't you think it would be nice if you would add to your notebook a list of words that are not spelled correctly? It would be a help to some of the younger ones.

Lady Jane, you gave a good hint and I suppose many of the cousins will know you. As for myself, I know you. You are the girl from the children's book called "Lady Jane." Well, Ouida, here is another letter to give you a hint as to the identity of THE LITTLE COLONEL.

Dear Aunt Ruth: I wonder if the school are glad or sorry to start in to school. I am glad to get down to work again, for I have had a good long vacation and a very happy one. I think Annie Pellows Johnston writes lovely books. Don't you? We've got the sweetest little club in the world, but I can't stay here writing to all night, so I will have to say goodnight. I hope a whole lot will write next Sunday. Well, goodbye. Your niece, "LITTLE DORRIT."

Age 12 years. P. S. Aunt Ruth: Have a double page next Sunday, and put your picture in it. Will you? Clarksville, Tenn.—Dear Aunt Ruth: I am a little girl, 9 years old, and would like very much to join the Aloha Club. I wrote several weeks ago, but was so disappointed when it was never in print. Then I thought perhaps it came too late.

If any of the Clarksville cousins wish to guess me, I have dark hair and dark eyes. I am in the fourth grade. Aunt Ruth, I think the Aloha Club is increasing every week. I think the paper would be nice for the club. Forget-me-not, I think I know who you are. Isn't your last initial R? If you know who I am I will ask you not to tell. As my letter is very long now, I will say good-bye.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND. Dear Aunt Ruth—Here I come again to knock for admittance into your page. Rowena and Ouida, your letters were fine. To give the cousins a hint as to my identity I will describe myself as being 5 feet tall, with light brown hair and gray eyes. Cousins, do you think you would recognize me? Emma Marmon, I know you personally, and if you guess who I am please don't tell. I hope by next Sunday everybody will have their names, for an old saying is, the more you merrier.

I would like to know who Betty Lewis, Little Colonel and Bob Moore are. I am a new member knocking at the door. I hope you will accept me. I will close, fearing my letter will be too long. I sign myself, your niece, Alice in Wonderland.

Dear Aunt Ruth: I was very much pleased to see my letter in print. Any I think the nom de plume idea is great. I saw that the Children's Page was growing larger and some of my friends asked me to join it. Mary Ware and Pocahontas, I think your letters were very interesting this week. Aunt Ruth, I think it is very nice of the cousins to want your picture in the paper, because the other cousins outside of the city will get a glimpse of you, and I also agree to it. Mary May Wyman, I think your composition on a picnic in to his son's wishes when he died in 1824. After his father's death his mother decided he should study law. In 1828 he went to Leipzig to commence his studies, but finally to devote more time than ever to his music. Here he met the piano teacher, Friedrich Wieck, whose three or four years he went to Heidelberg and was so much interested in his work he wrote back to his mother begging her to let him become a musician. After awhile she consented to his wishes, Robert could hardly express his joy. In the next few years he wrote many fine compositions. An attachment to Clara Wieck, who had become one of the foremost pianists of the day, was strongly opposed by her father. Clara, then 9 years of age, was destined to become his wife. Then commenced taking lessons from Wieck. After three or four years he went to Heidelberg and was so much interested in his work he wrote back to his mother begging her to let him become a musician. After awhile she consented to his wishes, Robert could hardly express his joy. In the next few years he wrote many fine compositions.

Contest Department.

Puzzle Club Contest.

LEAF GUESSING.

How well do you know the trees? Name the trees from which these leaves come. All of them are well known. A first prize of $1 is offered for the nearest and best answer, and a second and a third prize of a book will be given for the next best answers. Answers must not be sent later than next Thursday, and should be addressed to the Contest Department, Children's Page, Courier-Journal. Answers must be written with pencil, except by children less than 10 years of age, nor in handwriting of parents, nor on typewriter. The prize-winners will be announced two weeks from to-day. Those who receive prizes or honorable mention will be considered members of the Puzzle Club, and will receive the button badge.

Also seem to have confused the Humane Club and Aloha Club, as you indicate by signifying the puzzle you wish to join the former. Write a separate letter for the Humane Club and sign your real name. Can't you tell us some of Trislie's and Teddy's cute tricks?

Louisville, Ky.—Dear Aunt Ruth: Is there room for one more? This is my first letter. But the fun is so tempting not to participate in it. Little Colonel and Rowena, you write interesting letters. I have two dogs, their names are Trislie and Teddy. Trislie is a fox-terrier and Teddy is a French poodle. I think the Aloha Club is just splendid. I hope that all agree with me. I agree with Betty Lewis in thinking that violet and gold would be pretty for club colors. Well, I am writing a good deal for my first letter, so I will close. With love to Aunt Ruth and the cousins, I am, MISS BILLY.

Louisville, Ky.—Dear Aunt Ruth: May I join your happy circle? I have been reading the Children's Page for three years. The noms de plume are certainly fine. Rosalind, I too like Shakespeare's tales, so I will take my nom de plume from one of them. I think gold and white would be pretty club colors. The Little Colonel and Bob Moore were certainly lucky to get such popular names. I would like to know some of the cousins personally. I am almost discouraged, as I have answered many puzzles, but was never among the successful ones. I recognized Rowena and Ivanhoe. Little Colonel and Wimp Rowena. Come forth, Romeo, and speak up, as I remain sincerely yours, JULIET.

Louisville, Ky.—Dear Aunt Ruth: I have been wanting to write to the Aloha Club for a long time, but have been so busy with my practicing and school work that I haven't had time. I am in the seventh grade this year and it keeps me busy to get my lessons. I have won one prize and several honorable mentions. I think it is quite exciting to send in answers to the different contents and see whether you receive a prize or honorable mention. The Humane Club and the Aloha Club I think are the nicest of all. I for one would like to join. I am sure that I will vote for officers until we read more of the letters. Don't you? Hoping that my letter will be in print, I am, your loving cousin, DOLLY VARDEN.

Louisville, Ky.—Dear Aunt Ruth: As there are so many other interesting letters in the Aloha Club post-office that even if Mr. Webster doesn't catch my letter hardly any of the children will take time to read it. Mary Ware, do you remember when I caught you early in the morning before dawn, when you were in the Little Colonel's yard by a blue bush washing your face in dew to get the freckles off? I know your cousin very, very well, and we are certainly good friends. I agree with the others that you should put your picture on the paper. I am certainly delighted to see the paper for the children's department. Bob Moore, I know who you are, but why don't you write again to the paper? I am afraid to tell you the street I live on, for there are many children I know who live on my square that they would find out who I am. I live on Crescent Hill, Louisville, Ky. As my letter is getting long I will close, hoping to see my letter in print. I will close with love, PHIL TIEMONT.

Louisville, Ky.—My Dearest Aunt Ruth: I am very much interested in the Aloha Club, and I would like to join the happy circle if my cousins will permit me to do so. I would like very much to know the Little Colonel, Bob Moore, Betty Lewis, Joyce-Ware, Lieut. Beverly, Alice and the rest. This is my first letter to the club and I hope my "nom" will be accepted. If it has already been chosen I will replace it with Kitty Walton. I will give you a hint as to who I am. I am about five feet four inches tall, have brown hair and eyes, and am just 14 years of age. I am a freshman. Now guess who I am. Hoping this will escape the wastebasket and that my first nom can be used, I remain, lovingly, EUGENIA FORBES.

Louisville, Ky.—Dear Aunt Ruth: I enjoy the Children's Page immensely. This is the first time I have written to you. I think the noms de plume are fine. The page is growing more interesting every Sunday. Little Colonel, you certainly ought to be thankful for such a popular name. I am a new member knocking at the door. I hope you will accept me. I will close, fearing my letter will be too long. I sign myself, your niece, Alice in Wonderland.

OUR BADGE: OUR PLEDGE:

I will try to be kind to all harmless living creatures, and to protect them from cruel usage.

A DOG STORY. A little girl next door to me has a little black dog. One day we were skating and the dog ran out in the street, and a carriage came along and ran over the dog; the man in the carriage got out and went to see if the dog was hurt very bad; and the dog bit him. It hurt the man more than it did the dog. The dog is about well now.

EMMA JEAN CRUTCHER. It is dangerous to try to help a dog that is hurt, as some things that are suffering do not always understand one's good intentions. One can be merciful and try to help and at the same time be cruel.

"BROTHER ED." Once I had a pet chicken. I called it "Brother Ed," because my Uncle Ed gave it to me. I would crawl around on my hands and knees and say "Chicken, chicken, Brother Ed" would follow me. I was about 3 years old and was going to the kindergarten. One day when I started out to school, "Brother Ed" followed me and I had to put him inside the gate and shut it. When I got to school I told the teacher about it and she told me to bring him to school the next day. So I did, and when I got to school the children sat around in a circle in the red chairs and we opened our lunches and gave him a little bit of food. "Brother Ed" ate some. So we got some lard and poured it down his throat and he got all right, but one day he was found dead in the garden.

TAFT AND DIAZ MEET ON BORDER

The Heads of Two Nations
Shake Hands.

Mexican President First To Open Conversation.

Man of Kentucky Blood Acts
As Interpreter.

Fatal Fight Occurs Between School Boys.

Body of Victim Wrapped In Stars and Stripes.

ENORMOUS CROWD ON HAND.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 16.—The long-expected meeting between President Taft and President Diaz of the Republic of Mexico took place here to-day. Outwardly it was attended with a display of military, a flare of trumpets, a boom of cannon and a pomp of ceremony suggestive of supreme authority, but in the actual hand-clasp of the two executives and in the exchange of courteous words which passed from lip to lip there was simple but cordial informality.

President Diaz was the first to speak. He assured President Taft of his warm personal regard and his high esteem of the man who had accomplished so much in the Philippines, in Cuba and elsewhere and who had now the honor to be the Chief Executive of so great a nation as the United States.

President Taft, in simple American fashion, declared he was glad to meet President Diaz. He was glad to know the President of such a great nation; especially glad to know the present President who had made the nation great.

Speaks of Friendly Relations.

Both Presidents dwelt upon the cordiality of the relations existing between the United States and Mexico. President Taft declared that to-day's meeting was not necessary to make stronger the bonds of friendship; it merely typified the strength of the bonds as they already exist.

There were less than a score of persons permitted to witness the meeting of the two executives. Even these were excluded later when President Taft and President Diaz withdrew into an inner room of the Chamber of Commerce building, where the historic meeting took place and were only attended by Gov. Creel, of the State of Chihuahua, former Ambassador to the United States, who acted as interpreter.

Scene Shifts Frequently.

The scene of the day's ceremonies shifted from time to time from this thriving little American city across the shallow, wandering Rio Grande River to the typical little Mexican settlement of Ciudad Juarez.

In the customhouse there President Diaz received a return call from President Taft and again late this evening entertained the American President and a large dinner party at a state banquet, which in all its surroundings of lavishly decorated of brilliancy in color, of wealth of silver plate handed down from the time of the Emperor Maximilian, and in every carefully considered detail probably was the most notable feast ever served on the American continent.

It was at this banquet to-night that the more formal and public expressions of regard between the two executives as the representatives of the people of the United States and of Mexico were exchanged. The banquet also marked the end of the day of international pagentry—a day of cloudless skies.

Boy Killed Near Taft.

The day was marred by but one untoward incident. A lad of 15 years was stabbed to death by a school companion just as President Taft was stepping from his special train upon its arrival in the center of the city at 2:30 o'clock this morning. The boys were in the habit of pushing forward to catch a glimpse of the President as he came in a flat.

Body Lies on Pavement.

Morgan, aged 14 years, pulled a knife and before bystanders could realize what was happening, Lawrence, Winchell, aged 15, was lying mortally wounded at their feet, a red flow from his heart marking the site of the wound. Before an ambulance could reach the scene the boy was dead.

The crowd about the place was so great that even the wagon from the morgue could not make its way through, and during the time President Taft was at breakfast the body lay on the pavement not forty rods away. Some thoughtful persons finally tore down two American flags from the decorations about the place and spread them over the dead boy's form. Morgan was arrested and is held in the county jail to-night. He is utterly crushed and a heart-broken boy.

An interesting incident of the day was the declaration of neutrality over the El Chamizal territory, a part of the city of El Paso over which Mexico is contending for sovereignty. The El Chamizal territory was formed when the Rio Grande River took one of its peculiar spells of contrariness and changed its course a mile or two to the westward. The contention of the American authorities is that this change was gradual and was due to natural accretion from the American side. The Mexican authorities contend that the change was due to an avulsion or sudden change of course, and that the United States gained no additional territory by the shifting of the natural boundary line.

Regarded As Neutral Ground.

The matter still is in dispute. It was agreed between the Governments of Mexico and the United States to-day that this territory, which lies on this side of the international bridge, should be regarded as neutral and that neither the American nor the Mexican flag should anywhere be displayed thereupon.

President Diaz made his way through the Chamizal this morning to visit President Taft. The roadway was lined with American troops. As President Taft passed over the disputed ground to return the call the way was lined with Mexican soldiers.

The day's ceremonies began this morning when President Diaz, in a State carriage with gold hubs, gold-mounted doors, black horses and gay cockades, crossed the international bridge with an escort of soldiers. The main body of Mexican troops were left behind at the bridge entrance. The Diaz carriage was driven at a smart pace through the Chamizal territory to be met at the boundary by the American troops and by Secretary of War Dickinson.

Diaz In Full Dress Uniform.

President Diaz was attired in full dress uniform. Gold lace was at his breast and his cuffs and a broad gold sash was around his waist. The President's left breast was a mass of glittering decorations. All along the line of march President Diaz was cheered by the crowds. Chapeau in hand, he acknowledged the greeting with bows to left and right. Secretary of War Dickinson rode beside him and an aide occupied the forward seat in the carriage.

With President Taft when he greeted President Diaz were Secretary Dickinson and Postmaster General Hitchcock. Capt. Archibald W. Butt, Gen. Albert Meyer, U. S. A., Assistant Secretary W. W. Misher and C. C. Wagner, of the White House staff.

Private Interview.

President Diaz was accompanied by members of his cabinet and military staff. The private interview between the two Presidents lasted for fifteen minutes. It is officially stated that it consisted of but an elaboration of the public utterances of Messrs. Taft and Diaz, and that no matters of diplomacy were touched upon in any way.

Secretary Dickinson in greeting President Diaz at the boundary to-day said: "You are the first chief executive of a nation to cross our border. In this act you are giving not only the people of your and our country, but to the whole world, the highest manifestation of the cordial relations existing between these contiguous sister Republics and of your desire to make them so far as you can, perpetual."

Present At the Interview.

Those present at the interview between President Taft and President Diaz in the Chamber of Commerce building, El Paso, were J. M. Dickinson, Secretary of War; Frank H. Hitchcock, Postmaster General; Gov. Chamber of Commerce; Minnie and Agriculture; Gov. Creel of the State of Chihuahua, formerly Ambassador to the United States; Fabian Escandon, Chief of the military staff of President Diaz, and Ignacio De La Barra, private secretary to President Diaz.

Exchange of Compliments.

President Taft said: "I am very glad to welcome you, sir. I am very glad."

President Diaz answered: "I am very glad to see you. It is an honor of being one of the first foreigners to come over to give you a hearty welcome."

President Taft said: "It gives me only great pleasure to welcome the President of the great Republic of Mexico to the United States."

President Diaz answered: "I am very proud to grasp the hand of the great statesman, who has made such a record in this life—in the Philippines, in Cuba, and at present at the head of the great nation, the United States."

Typifies Strength of Bonds.

President Taft said: "I wish to express to you my belief that this meeting is looked upon by both peoples with a great deal of interest, not as making stronger but as typifying the strength of the bond between the two countries."

President Diaz said: "My friendly relations and my personal acquaintance with you, who have made thousands and thousands of friends of the American and Mexican people and benefited development in this life to follow for the good of the countries."

President Taft: "You have already made thousands of friends of the United States. I shall be glad to have the privilege of presenting to you the President of the United States."

The Postmaster General was thereupon presented to President Diaz.

Meets Diaz's Staff.

President Taft: "It should be glad to have the privilege of meeting your staff."

Diaz and Gov. Creel retired to an adjoining room to confer for a private which lasted for about fifteen minutes. The interview between President Diaz and President Taft was a most cordial one. The President of the United States for a second time in the history of the nation, a day of amity between the two great nations, a day made usual by the first visit to American soil of the chief ruler of a nation in any way approaching the prestige of Mexico.

Taft Leaves El Paso.

President Taft left El Paso at 5 o'clock p. m. to continue his journey through the South. To-morrow evening he will arrive at San Antonio and after spending a day there he will go to Corpus Christi to be the guest of his brother, C. P. Taft, for three or four days on the latter's ranch.

President Diaz late to-night is speeding back to the City of Mexico. President Diaz was received on this side of the Rio Grande with an acclaim that almost equaled that of President Taft in the City of Juarez.

President Taft and President Diaz set side by side at the banquet. The conversation was carried on partly in Spanish and partly through the interpreter who stood just in the rear of the presidential chairs. Mr. Taft retains much of the Spanish he gained in the Philippines.

Toasts Interpreted.

An interpreter began to interpret the Mayor's conversation when President Taft said he not only understood, but greatly appreciated the compliments of the Mayor.

The speeches of Presidents Taft and Diaz at the Juarez dinner were given as toasts from one to the other. President Diaz was first to rise, and as he gained his feet an impressive silence of expectancy succeeded the hum of general conversation, which had engrossed the 150 guests.

Taft Repays the Call.

Less than an hour after President Diaz had withdrawn President Taft was on his way to Juarez to repay the call. He was received at the Mexican end of the bridge by all of the troops gathered there as an escort to President Diaz and was received with the same honors and distinction as had marked the visit of the Mexican Executive to this country.

Diaz's Toast.

President Diaz said: "Mr. President, Gentlemen: This visit which his excellency, President Taft, makes to Mexico will mark a epoch in the history of Mexico. We have had with us some very eminent American visitors, such as Gen. Ulysses Grant and the Hon. Messrs. Seward and Root, but never have we seen on our soil the first magistrate of the greatest American union. Such a proof of international amity, which Mexico appreciates and esteems in all its worth and meaning, will be from to-day a happy precedent for Latin-American republics to cultivate constant and cordial relations among themselves with us and with all the other countries of the continent."

"Inspired by these sentiments, which are also those of my countrymen, I toast for the hope that the country of immortal Washington may always enjoy the happiness and prosperity which justly correspond to the intelligent activity and high civil qualities which characterize the manly and cultured American people and for the everlasting glory of its heroic founders."

Taft Responds.

When the interpreter had concluded President Taft arose. It was a minute or more, however, before he could proceed. Cheers rang through the flowered dining hall, which had been constructed in the picturesque patio of the Juarez customhouse and Mr. Taft stood in smiling appreciation until he was permitted to proceed. He said:

"Mr. President, Gentlemen: Responding as befits the most auspicious occasion, I rise to express in the name and on behalf of the people of the United States, the admiration and high esteem they hold for the great, illustrious and patriotic President of the Republic of Mexico. I also take this occasion to pronounce hearty sentiments of friendship and accord with which my countrymen regard the Mexican people."

"Your excellency, I have left the United States and set my foot in your great and prosperous country to emphasize the high sentiment and confidence, the feeling of brotherly neighborliness which exists between our two great nations. The people of the United States respect and honor the Mexicans for their patriotic devotion, their will energy and steady advance in industrial development and moral happiness."

"The aims and ideals of our two nations are identical, their sympathy mutual and lasting and the world can be assured of a vast neutral zone of peace in which the controlling aspiration of either nation is individual and human happiness."

"I drink to my friend, the President of this great republic, to his continued life and happiness and to the new era of friendship and mutual sympathy between Mexico and the United States."

Repeated In Spanish.

As President Diaz's words were interpreted into English, Mr. Taft's remarks were repeated in Spanish. During the banquet an orchestra made up of some of the most noted Mexican musicians played the national airs and anthems of the two nations. President Taft made his way to American soil in a perfect blaze of artificial light and with an escort which changed at the breakfast at the St. Regis Hotel, reviewed civic and military parades this afternoon and spoke to a crowd of thousands in Carnegie Square.

DETAIL OF CYNTHIANA COMPANY LEAVES FOR UNKNOWN DESTINATION.

Cynthiana, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Capt. John Terry, of Cynthiana, Company F, Second Kentucky Infantry, left this city to-night with a detail of soldiers under sealed orders. Their destination is unknown. This is the first time soldiers have been ordered out in this section of the State since militiamen were on duty in Bracken county last spring in the tobacco troubles.

SENATOR M'CARREN MAY DEFEAT DEATH

NOTED BROOKLYN POLITICIAN OVERCOMES AN OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS.

New York, Oct. 16.—State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, who has been critically ill since Wednesday night, when he underwent an operation for appendicitis, is holding his own and his recovery is believed to be assured. When Dr. Peter Hughes left the Senator's room in St. Catherine's Hospital late to-night he announced that Senator McCarren's condition was so satisfactory that he did not expect to return until to-morrow morning. His temperature was normal, as was his pulse, with the exception of occasional surges.

"I believe the Senator is going to live," said Dr. Hughes. "Anxious friends and political associates of the Senator continue to wait about the hospital for news of his condition, and the police have roped off the streets near the building. Telegrams and telephone messages arrive by the hundred."

SUDDEN DEATH OF HENDERSON FARMER.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Two hours after he became ill this afternoon, death claimed R. A. Henderson, aged 50, one of the best-known and most prominent farmers of this county.

THE AVERAGE MAN

Seems to be of the opinion that in order to get any degree of satisfaction out of a garment he must spend more than he can reasonably afford in making the purchase. But he is mistaken. LATONIA, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special).—The first week of the fall meeting at Latonia wound up in a blaze of glory. Ideal weather, a brilliant card, together with a track that promised fast going, all combined to draw out a banner crowd. The speculation was extremely heavy, and with four favorites, a second choice and a heavily-backed good thing galloping down to the wire in front of their respective fields, the talent again succeeded in getting away with much the best of the speculative argument.

A fenced-in past week's racing and one that has drawn forth comment from horsemen and racegoers alike, is the fact that there has been total absence of scandal connected with the sport. Clean, wholesome racing has resulted each day, and about the only people who have a kick coming are the book-makers, who have suffered one of the worst drubbings in turf history because of the overabundance of winning favorites.

The feature event of this afternoon's card went to Geo. H. Holle's crack sprinter, Hanbridge, which, although asked to pick up the big impost of 120 pounds, took the track away from the Belmont speed marvel, Richard Reed, after a slight brush, in which Jockeys Taplin and Herbert engaged in a whipping duel. The speculation was extremely heavy, and with four favorites, a second choice and a heavily-backed good thing galloping down to the wire in front of their respective fields, the talent again succeeded in getting away with much the best of the speculative argument.

Sinfran's Easy Victory.

The opening event proved nothing short of a cakewalk for the odds-on favorite, Sinfran. The winner was pounds the best and galloped home a skiff of a mile in front of his field. Battle Priest, a rank outsider, got the place money after a sensational stretch run. Oona outlasted Ned Carmack for the deep money. The latter showed a lot of early foot and followed the pace until the end of the race. This was his undoing, however, and he backed up badly in the final quarter. The start in this race was delayed several minutes because May Lutz took it into her head to run away. May Lutz, the clockwork girl, was stopped as she started the early stages, but stopped as if short.

Belle Clem Scores One.

Belle Clem, with Jockey Kennedy in the pilot-house, was the one to catch the judges' eyes first in the second race. The old-time runner, trained by J. H. Hanzaretta, ran a brilliant race, and was the only one to show a command when Hanzaretta quit, and stayed there to the end. Lucat had a good start, but was not in the race. The old-time runner, trained by J. H. Hanzaretta, ran a brilliant race, and was the only one to show a command when Hanzaretta quit, and stayed there to the end. Lucat had a good start, but was not in the race.

Killing Made On Hughes.

Rome Respass and his local friends cleaned up handsomely on Hughes' victory in the third. The old Ingolby gelding had little trouble in taking the field against him. Hughes' horse, a rank outsider, got the place money after a sensational stretch run. Oona outlasted Ned Carmack for the deep money. The latter showed a lot of early foot and followed the pace until the end of the race. This was his undoing, however, and he backed up badly in the final quarter. The start in this race was delayed several minutes because May Lutz took it into her head to run away. May Lutz, the clockwork girl, was stopped as she started the early stages, but stopped as if short.

Hanbridge Takes Feature.

The fourth and feature event on the card went to Hanbridge. The Holle horse demonstrated that he is one of the best racing two-year-olds in the country. He was the only one to show a command when Hanzaretta quit, and stayed there to the end. Lucat had a good start, but was not in the race. The old-time runner, trained by J. H. Hanzaretta, ran a brilliant race, and was the only one to show a command when Hanzaretta quit, and stayed there to the end. Lucat had a good start, but was not in the race.

Martine H's Handy Victory.

Starter Holtzman was unfortunate in getting the bit unwisely held in the fifth race off to a bad break. Two horses, Princess Thorpe and Pif Oak, were absolutely left while the balance of the field were not straggling. Eleanor Robson showed in front for the first quarter, but was soon overtaken by Martine H, which eventually won the heat in handy fashion. Lou Latonia, who had been in the race, was dropped into second pocket, while Hanbridge was a easy-going third. Eleanor Robson cut badly and finished outside the money.

Accident In Last Race.

The closing race of the day was marred by a bad accident, two horses, Admonitor and Bruce Rice, going down shortly after the start. Anne McGee, who was riding the horse, was injured. The race was a close one, with several horses in the lead. The winner was a dark horse, which was a surprise to many of the spectators.

Inexpensiv Tailoring

No matter in what light we may present the facts to you, what the argument, what the claims, there is simply this to it:

No better values are obtainable—tailormade or readymade—in all America—than those we give in making to order; no, not equal.

There's a business reason for it—volume of business. That alone permits us to show bigger stocks than any half dozen other good tailors combined and to undersell them by half; that alone permits us to meet readiness on its own price ground and almost in readiness of delivery.

There's your reason for trading here.

The World's Finest Men's Clothes

THE BEST MEN in Louisville can now buy the finest clothes in the world, in the most attractive man's shop in the south. We have had made (to our own order) a special line of ELY MEYER & M. C. SIMON garments—enough of itself to render competition impossible. The dividing line between these famous garments and all other "ready" clothes is sharp and clear on every point—fabrics, draping and finish. Ready to put on, yet on a plane with the very finest of custom work. Makers of ordinary clothes cannot understand why we put such fine woollens into all our garments—"squander" such high-cost talent in making them up—and then sell them at the prices THEY get for the good-enoughs. No Louisville man will be at a loss to choose now that the known best is ready to hand. Prices $20 to $45. Especially notable selections at $25 to $30.

Also the best variety of the best Shirts and "Fixings."

The Shape That Stays

No good tailor will garb his patron in the clothes of a clown. Custom styles are always simple. They are not upholstered like cheap overstuffed furniture. They are not filled with pads to take the place of that exquisite labor which the bench worker puts into cloth to produce permanence of form without showing his method. The good tailor works over every inch of a coat collar and coat breast and lapel. It takes thousands and thousands of hidden stitches to permanentize shape. The men who can produce such handiwork spend enough time to do justice to themselves. But once a custom garment is finished it is right—it stays right—it looks right, wears right and has the same perfect draping during the whole tenure of its use. Tailoring is a hand craft. It can no more be substituted than the work of the landscape painter or the creations of the portraiturist.

(New York Globe.)
"I guess I'm the Easy Thing," said a business man in lower Broadway. A young man came to my office to-day, said he was in his line in Washington, but was temporarily broke—and could he have 20? His concern would stand for it. "I'm cautious in such matters. I wired his people a query, and they replied that I could let the young man have the money. They would send it to me later. I gave him the $20.

"After he had gone I suddenly realized that I had paid the cost to wire to Washington, and also the cost of a collector's reply, for the privilege of doing a favor for a stranger. Meanwhile I'm waiting for the $20.

"I'm ahead, am I not? Or am I Easy, with a big 'E'?"

Betting—Johnson to win 10 to 4.
Referee—Jack Welsh.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Jack Johnson vindicated his right to the heavyweight title to-day by knocking out Stanley Ketchel in the twelfth round. The end came so suddenly that when Ketchel rolled onto the floor and Referee Welsh counted him out the 10,000 persons crowded the arena were absolutely quiet for a full minute. Even Johnson, who leaned against the ropes half dazed by his own fall a moment before, did not seem to know what had happened.
The climax of the fight was crowded into thirty-four seconds. At the beginning of the last round there was little to judge from in preceding rounds to pick the winner. The men in the center of the ring clinched and wrestled to Johnson's corner, the negro broke away, and, posing himself, dashed at Ketchel, who sprang to meet him. Ketchel drove his right at the black's lowered head. Johnson ducked and the blow landed behind his ear. He stumbled, fell and stretched out on the floor, landing heavily.
Ketchel backed toward the ropes with a smile glimmering in his battered, blood-streaked face. Johnson rose slowly, as though dazed. As he straightened to his knees, his eyes encountered Ketchel's, and with the fury of a wild beast, he leaped across the ten feet that separated them. His right fist shot to the white man's jaw. His left crashed to the stomach and the right swung again with the speed of lightning, catching Ketchel's head as he reeled back down the onslaught. Ketchel dropped in a heap and Johnson, unable to stop his rush, sprang across his beaten rival's legs and fell full length upon him.
The negro sprang to his feet with a bound, but Ketchel was out. Once as the second was counted over he feebly moved his arms and rolled his head. He gave no other sign of life, and his seconds picked him up from the floor barely conscious.

Negro Almost Out.

Johnson was still dazed. He clung to the ropes and looked about him in a bewildered way. The crowd broke into murmurings and seemed unable to realize that the fight was over.

Ketchel won many friends by his showing to-day. From the time he entered the ring he was carried out, he was game to the core. Outweighed, overreached and in every way the physical inferior of his opponent, he fought a cool, well planned, gritty battle. He was puffed and he was bleeding at the nose and mouth before the fight was passed, but he kept following the negro about the ring undaunted.
Johnson appeared to be holding himself back all the time. Three times only did it look as though he went in to knock Ketchel's shoulder in the midst of their wrestling bouts. This happened whenever he picked the smaller man off the ground and set him down again in another place. He did it frequently and apparently without effort.

Ketchel Cautious.

Ketchel fought warily from the start. He kept at long range, avoiding many blows by clever ducking, but Johnson jabbed his left into the white man's face time after time. When they clinched, the black man's heavy right hand above Ketchel's hair, and it looked as though a stripping were wrestling with a man.
Twice Ketchel was thrown to the floor by the rush of Johnson's attack. Neither time did a blow land. At other times Ketchel evaded the charges by skipping nimbly to right or left or backing swiftly away. They spaced the fight for several periods and there was little real fighting through the earlier rounds. For reasons known only to himself Johnson preferred to keep away, and when he had felt the force of Ketchel's blows he left him to recover more than ever ready to go slow about his work. In his dressing-room after the fight he said:

"He is a good puncher and a strong man. I must say that he has given me a severe clip than I ever had before, and he rubbed his swollen jaws reflectively. 'I am in better luck than Johnson now,' he said. 'Look at him. He is dazed, but for that one blow I would have beaten him.'
The fight attracted the greatest crowd in years. Over 10,000 people were ranked about the walls and overflowed the seats. Fully 3,000 were turned away. Promoter Coforth stated after the fight that $40,000 had been taken in.

The story by rounds is as follows:

Tame Beginning To Bout.

Round 1—The men did not shake hands. Johnson towered above his adversary for several inches. The champion scored almost immediately with a hard left to the stomach. "Make him lead," yelled the spectators to Ketchel. Ketchel apparently was determined to make the black lead and sparred for almost half a minute. Johnson at long range shot his left to the face twice with lightning-like rapidity. Ketchel forced the black against the ropes, but the latter wriggled away without receiving a blow. The bell rang. It was an utterly tame round, both men fighting with extreme caution. Ketchel looked nervous throughout, while Johnson wore his "golden smile."
Round 2—They ran to a clinch and Referee Welsh pried them apart. On the break Johnson shot a straight left to the nose and soon thereafter repeated it. A every clinch Ketchel was playing with his short arm blows for the stomach. In a clinch Ketchel uppercut hard to the jaw with his left. This angered the champion, who rushed in, landing left and right on the body and Ketchel slipped to the floor with considerable force. He was up quickly and rushed in, but had great difficulty in getting under Johnson's long reach. Johnson merely waved his hand until the bell ended the round. Ketchel's face showed grim determination as he took his corner.

Johnson Has a Shade.

Ketchel went to his corner dancing, however, and looked fresh. Johnson kept up a running fire of conversation with his seconds during the minute respite.
Round 3—After sparring fast Johnson reached in, forcing his man to the ropes and, placing his arms around Ketchel, fairly tore at the buttons of the champion's shirt. "Make him lead," came the repeated injunction from the crowd. Ketchel tried to swing right and left, but Johnson kept constantly teasing the black in an effort to make him lead. It was a tame round, characterized by a few bursts of speed.
Round 4—Johnson renewed with a left to the body, to which the champion replied with two weak lefts to the face. Johnson then sent Ketchel's head back with two straight lefts to the nose. Ketchel again essayed to force Johnson to lead, which the champion failed to respond. Ketchel showed unexpected cleverness at blocking the negro's punches. Johnson chose to lead. Johnson flung his left twice to the face and the men sparred at long range. Johnson worked in a left to the face.
Neither man showed damage as the round ended. Few leads marked the round, Johnson having a shade.

Negro's Weight Counts.

Crowd Cheers Ketchel.

Round 8—Johnson's smile had vanished when he came up. He immediately closed in, landing twice with his left on the face. The fighters fought a hard, shoulder to shoulder, and Ketchel worked in a hard right uppercut to the body. The crowd cheered the men, Johnson landing left and right on the face as they broke. Ketchel missed a terrific left swing for the jaw. Johnson's right hand was a constant menace and it caught the champion on the jaw, raising a big lump that was perceptible to the spectators. He was by far the cleanest and best blow of the fight and the immense crowd arose to its feet yelling gleefully.

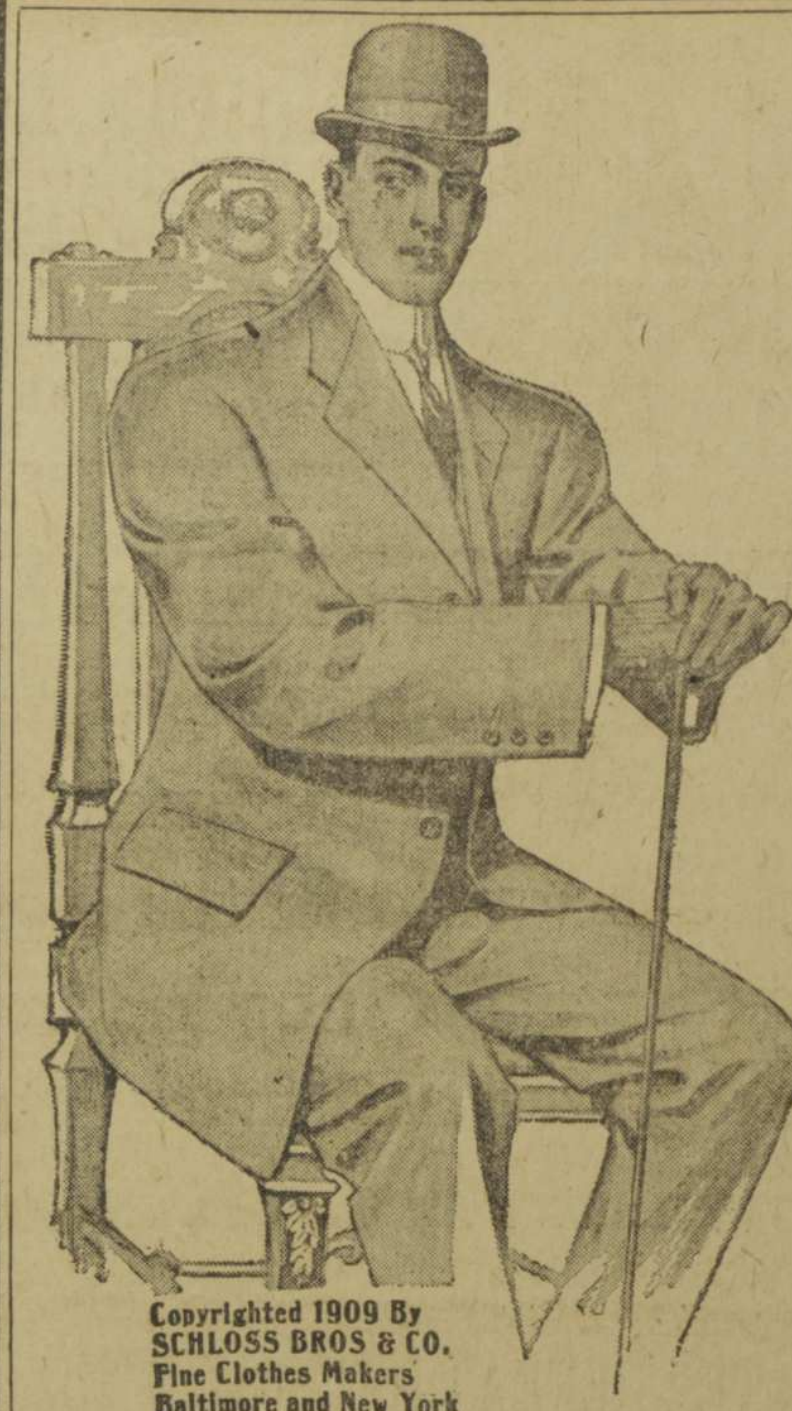

Round Cheers Ketchel.

Round 9—Johnson's smile had vanished when he came up. He immediately closed in, landing twice with his left on the face. The fighters fought a hard, shoulder to shoulder, and Ketchel worked in a hard right uppercut to the body. The crowd cheered the men, Johnson landing left and right on the face as they broke. Ketchel missed a terrific left swing for the jaw. Johnson's right hand was a constant menace and it caught the champion on the jaw, raising a big lump that was perceptible to the spectators. He was by far the cleanest and best blow of the fight and the immense crowd arose to its feet yelling gleefully.

Round 10—Johnson's smile had vanished when he came up. He immediately closed in, landing twice with his left on the face. The fighters fought a hard, shoulder to shoulder, and Ketchel worked in a hard right uppercut to the body. The crowd cheered the men, Johnson landing left and right on the face as they broke. Ketchel missed a terrific left swing for the jaw. Johnson's right hand was a constant menace and it caught the champion on the jaw, raising a big lump that was perceptible to the spectators. He was by far the cleanest and best blow of the fight and the immense crowd arose to its feet yelling gleefully.

About the Knockout.

Round 11—After some desultory sparring, Ketchel whipped his left to the kid. Johnson's right hand was a constant menace and it caught the champion on the jaw, raising a big lump that was perceptible to the spectators. He was by far the cleanest and best blow of the fight and the immense crowd arose to its feet yelling gleefully.

fell flat upon his back and seemed to have injured himself. Ketchel rushed at him, but the tricky champion was waiting for him. He swung a hard right to the jaw, but Ketchel was quick as a flash and slipped to the body. As Ketchel fell backward Johnson sent in another right to the face, and the white man went to the mat, as if almost where he lay prone, with blood streaming from his mouth. He made a weak effort to arise, but fell back again and was counted out.

FORDHAM WINS FROM CORNELL ON TWO FLUKES.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 16.—On two flukes, the principals to the all-Ivy League football game of the Cornell backs, Fordham won from the Red and Whites to-day by a score of 12 to 6. The game was fiercely fought and several times the Cornell backs were on the verge of victory. Cornell's only score was made in the second half when Tyndeman ran fifty-five yards on a pass to Fordham's ten-yard line, where Simons pushed the ball over. Fordham scored first after two minutes of play in the first half, when Baker, the Cornell quarterback, fumbled a punt. The ball rolled over Cornell's line and was recovered by Fordham. The visitors' second score was made in the second half on an on-side kick in mid-field, when the Cornell backs failed to stop McCafferty. Fordham's right end, recovered the ball and crossed the line. Fordham kicked both her goals successfully and Tyndeman kicked the goal after Cornell's single score. Summary:
Touchdowns—McCafferty, McCafferty and Tyndeman.
2: Tyndeman 1. Referee—Evans, of Williams. Umpire—Yurk, of Columbia. Time of game—Forty minutes.
Time of Halves—Twenty minutes.

Chattanooga Team Wins.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 16.—The University of Chattanooga to-day defeated Athens Department of the University by the score of 6 to 5. The Chattanooga boys made a touchdown in the first half minute of play. Later Leonard kicked goal. Athens fumbled when near the goal and Rogers, the swift runner of Chattanooga, secured the ball. Near the close Athens made a touchdown, but Duxton's effort to kick goal failed.

ABOUT FRANKFORT'S TEAM.

Capital To Be Represented In League Next Year—Want Tate To Manage Nine.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Considerable speculation is being indulged in by the local fans as to just what arrangements are going to be made for the management of the baseball team which will represent Frankfort in the Bluegrass League next season. Baseball enthusiasm here would be at a mighty low ebb just now were it not for the great interest in the world's championship series. Occasionally, however, a bug will revive and ask what's going to be done with the Frankfort club next year?

There is no doubt but that Frankfort have a team in the league again. And, further, there is no doubt but that the team is going to be run on vastly different lines from that of last season. Arrangements will be made for all the financial support that will be required before the season begins. Hugh Tate, utility first baseman and outfielder of the Louisville American Association team, would like to come here and take charge of the Frankfort team. He believes that he could secure his release from Louisville if he could get a chance to jump into a managerial job. Tate is an all-around good player and what is really more important he realizes the impor-

NAVIN'S RISE IN BASEBALL

President of the Detroit Club Now Enjoys a Big Income.

SHREWD STUDENT OF GAME.

'Almost Everything the Owner of the Tigers Touches Turns to Gold,' His Friends Say.

FAILS TO SECURE CLERKSHIP.

Eight years ago Frank J. Navin was mentioned for a clerkship in the city hall, says the Detroit News-Tribune, at a salary of $2,000 a year, but didn't take the job.

He is a man of wealth, with an income of over $100,000 a year. Baseball gave him his start. As president of the Detroit club, he has made a fortune.

His rise is a unique proof of the hold baseball has on the American public. He himself is one of the most interesting studies to be found among major league baseball managers.

Four years ago Detroit was considered the joke town of baseball. It had little, if anything, on Washington when it came to the game.

In the business world Frank Navin is not a stranger. He is one of the most successful and shrewdest of the human race.

He knew when he first got his start in baseball that he was going to make a fortune.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN IN TWENTY-FOUR-HOUR RACE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Ralph Mulford and Cyrus Patschke, who alternated in driving the Lozier car No. 2, carried off the honors in the twenty-four hour automobile race at the Brighton Beach motorrome to-night, and established a new world's twenty-four hour record of 1,196 miles. This is a record for a circular one-mile track, being nineteen miles better than the record over the same course last year by Robertson in a Simplex.

The Lozier car No. 4, driven by Cobe and Seymour, finished second, with 1,189 miles, and the third, with 1,189 and 1,185 miles, respectively.

Nine cars started in the race shortly after 4 o'clock last night, but only six of the race by accident, in none of which, however, were any of the drivers or assistants seriously injured.

The Lozier car No. 4, driven by Cobe and Seymour, finished second, with 1,189 miles, and the third, with 1,189 and 1,185 miles, respectively.

Variety Without End —IN OUR— "Winston" and "Brokaw" Suits and Topcoats

Unlimited opportunity for choice is one of the reasons why we clothe the great majority of the more discriminating men throughout Kentucky and the South.

Buying in tremendous quantities—anticipating in our orders the great range of styles and patterns necessary for our high-class trade—makes our store the "safe harbor" for gentlemen who want just what they want.

Our $25 Line of Fall Suits offers values and variety that will prove a revelation to the man looking for the best at this price.

Dressy blacks, blues, grays and blue and gray effects predominate, and the materials and styles are the highest expression of excellence.

Our $25 Topcoats

are a credit to the names "Winston" and "Brokaw"—and no higher compliment could be paid them. These come in different lengths to suit the great variety of preference. Some are silk-lined, others serge-lined. The colors are blacks, Oxfords, grays and mixtures.

The English Gabardine "Slip-ons," silk-lined and very "swagger," are making a tremendous "hit"—also at $25.00.

WARREN REPUBLICANS NAME "HURRY" TICKET.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special)—The plot is thickening in Warren County Republican politics. Yesterday Squire G. E. Speck announced his candidacy for County Judge and filed his petition. Some of the other faction heard of his action and by a rush effort presented a petition placing the name of John L. Haynes on the ticket as a Republican candidate for the same office, beating Speck's petition by a few minutes. This afternoon the Republicans held a hurry-up convention and nominated Squire Speck for County Judge and George H. Gallaway for County Attorney. This is intended to head off the candidacy of Mr. Haynes, but there is talk of carrying the matter into the courts.

TWO MEN RID OF CRUEL ECZEMA

Nephew Doctored for Fifteen Years but Got No Benefit—Finally Tried Cuticura Remedies and Was Permanently Cured—Uncle Similarly Cured Five Years Ago.

ONE CURE BY CUTICURA LEADS TO ANOTHER

"About five years ago I was burned in an explosion of natural gas. My head and face, also my hands and arms, were burned. About three weeks after, eczema set in over the parts of my body which were burned and my physician undertook to cure it by administering a solution of arsenic, increasing the dose, but without any perceptible benefit. I was gradually losing strength from the suffering and I was in a very serious condition."

"About that time my nephew told me of his experience with the Cuticura Remedies. He had eczema so severely that the blood ran down into his shoes. He suffered with the eczema for many years and had tried everything the physicians could prescribe. After doctoring for fifteen years, in which time he found to his regret that he was finally induced to try the Cuticura Remedies, and they cured him permanently in four months."

"You can easily believe I made haste to try them on my recommendation. I commenced using the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I was cured in less than two months so perfectly that I have not even had a symptom of the disease since, although it is over five years since the trouble began. I give this testimonial voluntarily, without solicitation or hope of reward, except that some one seeing it might be relieved from suffering as I was. G. T. Hamilton, Indiana, Pa., Dec. 15 and 24, 1908."

For thirty years Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded speedy relief to tens of thousands of skin-tormented and disfigured sufferers from eczema, rashes, eruptions, irritations and chafings, from infancy to age, bringing comfort and peace to distressed households when all else fails.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. The engagement of Miss Anna Hughes and Mr. Robert Morgan Sparks is announced, the wedding to be quiet.

Louisville's Leading Bookkeeping Teacher,

Principal Geo. W. Schwartz, of the Bryant & Stratton Business College, is the author of several of the leading books on bookkeeping. His latest and best work is entitled "SWARTZ'S BRYANT & STRATTON BOOKKEEPING." He spends all day in teaching the same to the 200 bookkeeping students in his school. His ideas are so exceedingly practical and so far in advance of the times, that his students, who are preparing for one month as they can in other schools in three or four months. He spends his time in teaching and not in soliciting trade, as do most other business school principals. Do you see the point?

WILL BE QUIETLY MARRIED NEXT WEEK.
Nicholasville, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special)—The engagement of Miss Anna Hughes and Mr. Robert Morgan Sparks is announced, the wedding to be quiet.

celebrated next week. Miss Hughes is the daughter of Mr. J. D. Hughes. Mr. Sparks is the only son of former Senator E. R. Sparks, and is one of Nicholasville's leading young business men. He is a brother of Mrs. Marshall H. Guerrant, of Louisville.

Mrs. Jennie Sanders and Mr. Robert Kiebert, both of Cincinnati, were married this morning at the residence of the officiating minister, the Rev. J. M. Fuqua.

An advertisement to be read should be especially noted. For instance, on page 10, under "Winter's Tonic" is the song-and-remedy for chills.

NEGROES' VICTIM LAID TO REST

FUNERAL OF LEON YANDELL AT COVINGTON.

FIANCEE FOLLOWS BODY TO THE GRAVE.

BROTHER FAILS TO ARRIVE.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special)—The body of Leon Yandell, the young civil engineer, who was murdered by negroes near here Saturday, was interred in the Lexington cemetery this afternoon. His fiancée, Miss Ollie Dehman, and a group of friends from the construction camp with which he was connected at the time of his death, followed the hearse to the grave. The body has been held all week in the expectation that a brother, Charles Yandell, would arrive here from Richmond, but he has not reached here today. It was decided by the dead man's friends that he had been indefinitely detained and a grave was purchased in the Lexington cemetery and the funeral was held.

The officers and men of the construction camp on the Nicholasville and Lexington interurban road, of which Mr. Yandell was superintendent at the time of his death, had decided to suspend work until after his funeral as a mark of respect to his memory and it was necessary that the construction be renewed it was thought desirable to postpone the funeral on account of his brother's unexplained absence.

The fact that the suspense was exceedingly hard upon Mr. Yandell's fiancée, Miss Dehman, who had come from Webb City, Mo., for the funeral, also was a strong reason for ending

RIVER, BUSINESS AND WEATHER.

The river was falling slowly last night, with a stage of .2 of a foot on the falls, .2 of an inch in the canal and .2 of an inch below the locks. Business on the river was good. The weather was clear and brisk.

BOAT LEAVING THIS DAY.

Lizlie Bay, Capt. Lindburn, for Cincinnati.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES YESTERDAY.

Kentucky, Capt. Hissom, from and to Cincinnati.

Indiana, Capt. Hissom, from and to Cincinnati.

Driftwood.

The Lizlie Bay, in command of Capt. Jack Lindburn, is the only packet scheduled to leave port today. She will depart from the Third-avenue wharfboat at 2 o'clock this morning for Madison, Cincinnati and all intermediate points.

The eleven dead reported to-day are as follows:
Ernest Guggins, Scott's Hill, Tenn.
Mrs. McDaniel, near Stantonville, Tenn.
Gabe Helton, who lived near Uptonville, Tenn.
Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Helton.
Nannie Banks, daughter of Terry Banks, Stantonville, Tenn.
Riley Hastings, near Stantonville.
Two persons killed at Belmont, Tenn.
Rumors have been received telling of the death of fifteen people on Second Creek, Wayne county, but no names are given.

This report has not been confirmed. Three persons are reported at Russellville, Ala., and four at Woodville, Ala. Both are unconfirmed.

Every indication now points that the storm will run far above the first estimate. From all sections of the storm area to-day came reports of heavy property damage and destruction to crops. Cotton in particular suffered great damage, and whole fields were laid to waste by the terrific downpour of rain and hailstones.

The storm was probably the worst that section of the country has ever known and it will be days before any correct estimate can be given of the actual damage it did.

Arrivals: Bessie Smith, from Manchester, Kanawha, from Louisville.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles and a severe female weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I could not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively of roots and herbs, a fair trial. This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and restorer of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States, bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial. Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful."

months' use of them."—Mrs. S. A. Williams, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively of roots and herbs, a fair trial.
